PROOF of Fitzgerald's Friendship for Webster

This picture is part of a group photograph of Boston City Hall politicians and city employes taken at the celebration on Peddock's Island, September 17, this Fall.

The faces shown here are only a few of the whole number shown in the original photograph.

Mayor Fitzgerald and Walter A. Webster, the Republican candidate for District Attorney, you will notice, are seated side by side.

GIRL MILL STRIKERS VOTE TO FIGHT ON

Police Trail Actor Indicted in New York; HUNT HITCHCOCK IN HUB

Raymond Hitchcock, the well-known comedian, under six indictments in New York on serious charges preferred by three young girls, is being sought to-day in Boston, North Adams and all New England by officers from District Attorney Jerome's office. Several clues are being worked on, all of them indicating that the actor, after his marriage, broke that they believe that he took flight to New England yesterday. Still Hitchcock is the victim of foul play and blackmail. They declare that he has been smuggled away and even murdered.

Herman Fromme, Hitchcock's attorney, and his wife, was was Nabelle Mangan of Chicago, before Isabelle of Flora

In this belief they stand almost alone, most of the friends of the comedian thinking that he has lost his nerve and taken refuge in flight, deserting his wife and Colonel Henry W. Savage, who made him an actor.

Taking no chances of the comedian's escape, wireless messages have pursued the steamship Majestic, which left New York last Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. A well-known New York man told the Police Department that he saw a man much resembling Hitchcock board the vessel but a few minutes before she sailed.

Beliefs by the young actor is a theory advanced by but few, for the many friends of Hitchcock unite in declaring that he was not a man with suicidal bent, and that he would put thousands of miles between him and the New York District Attorney rather than take his own life.

That Hitchcock may be in full flight to Canada, or may have reached there by this time, is another possibility that the authorities are working upon. Conductor G. B. Keeler of the North Adams special over the Berkshire division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad believes that he had Hitchcock with him as a passenger from New York to North Adams Wednesday morning. The actor was accompanied by two friends, says Keeler.

Sure He Saw Hitchcock.

One of the companions of the fancied actor paid the railroad fare, and this adds some color to the rumor that this was the course of Hitchcock's flight, for when the actor left his hotel, the Flanders, in New York last Tuesday morning, he only had $3 in his pockets.

At North Adams Clerk Newman of the Richmond House is positive that he saw Hitchcock in that city on Wednesday. It is thought there that he may have taken a trolley car to Bennington, Vt., and there taken a train for Canada.

The Grand Jury in New York did not find the six indictments against Hitchcock until nearly noon last Tuesday. That morning at about 9 o'clock he arose and told his wife that he was going to a Turkish bath, and that is the last that has been seen of him. How he knew in advance, if he did, that indictments were to be found against him is being asked in New York to-day.

When Hitchcock was called for his hearing in New York Wednesday, New York dispatches say, his counsel was forced to ask for a continuance, as the client could not be found. The case was put over until to-day. Wednesday and the bail of $3,000 continued.

Fitzgerald and Webster Side by Side

How Would You Like to Have Webster Passing on City Hall Graft Cases NOW?

The AMERICAN prints in this issue a photograph that is PART of a large group photograph of heads of city departments, prominent city employes and members of Mayor Fitzgerald's political machine. The picture was taken September 17, 1907, on the 277th anniversary of the founding of the city of Boston.

The whole picture shows the faces of 100 persons.

You will notice, in the portion of the picture which we print in this newspaper, that Walter A. Webster, the Republican candidate for District Attorney, sits by Mayor Fitzgerald's side.

There were 98 other persons in the crowd from whom either Webster or Fitzgerald could have chosen a side partner, but when they sat in a group for the photographer to take them, Mr. Webster quite NATURALLY seated himself at MR. FITZGERALD'S RIGHT HAND.

Careful study of the photograph reveals a hand placed affectionately on Mr. Webster's left shoulder. We don't know WHOSE hand that is, but we DO know that if, in the bitter effort that is now being made to defeat John B. Moran, Mr. Webster should be elected District Attorney, THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE WOULD BE JUST AS FRIENDLY TO CITY HALL AS WALTER A. WEBSTER IS TO JOHN F. FITZGERALD.

When you realize that Mayor Fitzgerald has no opponent in the Democratic primaries and when you realize the graft at City Hall that has already been exposed by the Finance Commission and that is STILL TO BE EXPOSED, you realize the necessity of having in the District Attorney's office a man who is not Mayor Fitzgerald's right-hand man.

Exciting Scene at Big Lawrence Meeting as Proposition to Return to Work Was Voted Down—Girl Appealing to Fellow-Workers Is Overcome and Carried from Hall.

Special to the Boston American.

LAWRENCE, Nov. 1.—By a vote of 462 to 172, taken to-day amid scenes of the wildest confusion, the strikers who left the Arlington mills because they objected to Overseer James W. Bolton, whose methods they denounce as tyrannical, have decided to continue the fight.

Immediately on the announcement of the vote, which was received with mingled cheers and hoots, the Executive Committee, which waited on Agent Hartshorne and recommended that the strikers return to work Monday, tendered their resignations.

Miss Minnie Riley, one of the strike leaders, after making an appeal from the platform, was overcome by the excitement and was carried from the hall.

PROMISES MADE BY AGENT.

Agent Hartshorne told the committee that if the strikers would return to work Monday morning and become again employes of the mill, he would take up the grievances they presented. He refused to act until they returned to work.

It took two hours to get the vote. The weavers and the loom fixers were against the continuance of the strike. Mrs. Sadie McDonough has issued a call to the weavers for a mass meeting to decide whether they shall be bound by the vote taken today or return to work Monday morning.

It is believed that the loom fixers and the weavers will both vote against continuing the strike, leaving the quillers, twisters and drawing-in girls to continue.

COMMITTEE RESIGNS.

Thomas B. Ames, who was elected chairman of the executive committee which has been conducting the strike and which also had the conference with Agent Hartshorne, tendered his resignation when the vote was announced and was followed by all the other members of the committee.

William H. Russell, who presided at the mass meeting, immediately vacated his place, refusing to longer preside over the deliberations.

A large number of the strikers who voted to continue argued that they had no assurance that anything would be done if they returned to work. They said that Mr. Hartshorne only promised to investigate the grievances which they had against Overseer Bolton.

The women especially demand that Bolton shall be discharged before they return to work. They say they propose to stay out until 25 men is removed.

MUST FIRST RETURN TO WORK.

Agent Hartshorne told the committee flatly that he would consider no grievances which any of the strikers might have until they were once more employes of the mill. They might all return on Monday morning, he said, and then present their complaints to him. He promised to look into the matter. In the meantime he will do nothing.

When the mass meeting at City Hall was left without a chairman scenes of wild confusion prevailed, as efforts were made by the several factions to elect a chairman and have the meeting go on. Those who voted to return to work would have nothing to do with further organization of the meeting and left the hall, leaving those who favor continuance of the strike to get together and formulate plans.

It is expected that the strikers will be in session all day.

LIFE-SAVERS FAIL TO FLOAT STRANDED SHIP

CHATHAM, Nov. 1.—The steamer, Captain Kelly believed that the ship Charles F. Mayer, of Baltimore, which would float at 8 o'clock to-day, with high attack on Shovelful Shoals at 9 o'clock last water, but all attempts were unavailing. night, is in a dangerous position, and all She lies about a mile off the lightship, efforts of Captain Joseph Kelly and his hard aground, and at low water her two crew of twenty-one men.

The Mayer drifted on the shoals in attempting to clear a fishing schooner which was at anchor in the channel. She flew distress signals and the life crew immediately put out to her, the sea being calm.

The agents of the Consolidated Coal Company, her owner, were called upon to send tugs from Boston to-day.

The Mayer left Boston at daybreak on her trip southward, light. She is a coal carrying vessel with a capacity of 1,800 tons and is a regular visitor to Boston and other New England ports. She carries a

RICH SOMERVILLE MAN FOUND DEAD ON STAIRS

GEORGE W. HADLEY'S DEAD BODY WAS DISCOVERED BY POLICEMAN TO-DAY.

With his legs caught in the railings of a banister of the front stair at No. 133 Perkins street, and his face and body discolored, George W. Hadley, one of the wealthiest men of Somerville was found dead early to-day by Policeman Heron.

The medical examiner has been notified, and meanwhile the police are making a thorough investigation.

Appearances would seem to indicate that Mr. Hadley had died from strangulation, while trying to free his legs from the railing.

Was Fully Dressed.

Mr. Hadley was fully dressed, with the exception of a coat, and apparently fell while attempting to get down stairs from his bedroom.

Since the death of his wife, six years ago, he had lived alone and had few friends.

He leaves one son, Walter M., a real-estate man, of No. 24 Arlington street, Somerville, and a brother, Benjamin Hadley, who is worth nearly a million dollars. Like his brother, Benjamin Hadley, who is ninety-three years old, lived practically the life of a hermit until a few weeks ago, when he became seriously ill and had to engage a nurse.

Hadley had not been seen since Monday, and outside his door after the discovery of his body were morning papers of Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Patrolman Heron, who patrols the vicinity of the Hadley home, to-day suspected that something might have happened to Mr. Hadley, and, securing a ladder, he crawled into the house through a window.

Find Body on Stairs.

On the stairs he found Mr. Hadley's body.

The police say that they have not yet found any evidences of foul play, but they have told the medical examiner that he case is one which requires the most careful investigation.

WESTON QUITS DEDHAM AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Famous Walker on Way to Providence, Beating Record of 40 Years Ago.

HOLDS BRIEF RECEPTION

Refreshed by a good night's sleep, Edward Payson Weston, some hours ahead of his great walking record of forty years ago, left the King Philip House, Dedham, at 6:37 a. m. to-day on his way to Providence. He rose at 5:45 o'clock, held a reception in the parlors and had breakfast at 6:30 o'clock.

Among those who shook him by the hand were four men who, forty years ago, greeted him when he arrived at Dedham, and wished him good luck. They were Fireman Mark Henry A. Carey, James F. Keenan and Owen J. Reynolds.

When he left Dedham, Weston was accompanied by Vincent O'Reilley, who went as far as Walpole. Weston said that he felt in great shape.

Reaches Norwood at 7:52.

Weston arrived in Norwood at 7:52, fifty-seven minutes time from Dedham. He was greeted by a large crowd. He did not stop, however, but pushed briskly on toward Walpole. In the latter place he was greeted by Town Clerk John F. Kiley and by others who saw him on a previous fifty forty years ago.

He has decided to walk to Natick, R. I., to-day, instead of stopping for the night at Providence, as he had originally intended.

Weston was nearly three hours ahead of his own schedule when he reached the Parker House last night. He had been walking almost continually since his departure from Newburyport at 6 o'clock in the morning, but in spite of that remained at the Parker House but an hour and a half.

Eludes the Crowd

His trip from Newburyport was a continual ovation. Crowds greeted him all along the line, and at the Parker House there were 1,000 people awaiting his arrival. It was with difficulty that he threw off defaming hands and forced a passage through the crowd to the hotel. He made a brief speech to the crowd inside the hotel and then hurried to a room. Finding those waiting his appearance he left the hotel an hour and a half later by the rear exit and started up Tremont street toward Dedham.

Weston, while in Boston, remarked that he would beat his old record by twenty-four hours unless the weather and everything else is against him.

Begins Kissing Babies.

"I've kissed fifty babies and children to-day," he said, "and before I get to Chicago I expect it will be nearer 5,000."

At Beverly yesterday Weston was greeted by the Mayor and a brass band which escorted him to the hotel. All along the line he has discovered a remarkable number of people who remember his tramp of forty years ago. To the fine condition of his feet Weston bases his confidence of making Chicago ahead of his former record. 1200 to 127

MORAN WARNS VOTERS TO BEWARE FAKE POLITICAL ADS

Boston, Oct. 31, 1907.

To the Voters of Suffolk County:

Not content with falsehoods uttered on the stump, the friends of my opponents have resorted to as contemptible a trick as was ever perpetrated on the public.

Advertisements containing much truth and some falsehood have been inserted in the daily papers by my enemies so worded as to deceive the reader into the belief that some friend of mine had inserted them.

The only advertisements which I will permit any friend of mine to publish are my published letters to Senator Lodge and to Mr. Webster.

As I have no money to pay for advertisements, as I will borrow none, as I will accept no contributions from any source, and as I lost my voice in the cause of Democracy last year and have not yet recovered it, I am obliged to rely on the reading columns of the papers to reach the voters.

I anticipate that attacks at the last hour will be made upon me of a nature similar to those made in the past by the political machines.

False affidavits have in the past been published signed by fictitious names.

False resolutions of fictitious secret anti-religious organizations have in the past been published.

Broken down clergymen, with rabid religious hate for persons of other religious denominations, have in the past been hired to write, and in one instance to preach a sermon, praising one candidate and condemning another on lines of bigotry.

As the persons whose minds conceived and whose money paid for these infamous things are now violently opposed to my election, I warn the public, in order that such things, if done in this campaign, may react against the perpetrators of them.

The false advertisements indicate a vicious purpose in the defeat-crazed combinations.

They will stop at no crime to accomplish the defeat of the only official whose election they fear. JOHN B. MORAN.

'FAITHLESS TO PEOPLE,' SAYS BATES OF BELL

Independence League Candidate for Senate Speaks at Rousing Rally.

RAPS MILK TRUST LAWYER

Thomas H. Bates, the Independence League candidate for the Senate in the Eighth District, Wards 20 and 21, and Timothy J. O'Donnell, the League nominee for the House of Representatives in Ward 20, were feted in an enthusiastic reception by the voters of Ward 20 last evening at the rally held in the interests of the Independence League in Winona Hall, Stewart Building, Geneva avenue.

Robert T. Allen, who presided at the meeting, presented to the audience Captain Thomas H. Bates, candidate for the Senate, who said in part:

"He Dare Not Deny It."

"I want to tell Alderman Tilton S. Bell, one of my opponents, why he had incorporated in the notorious loan bill of Mayor Fitzgerald an item for $35,000 for the purchase of a small park in the Dorchester district. By what right, Mr. Bell, did you provide for the payment of $5,000 above what the owners had offered to sell it for to the city? I ask you to come forward like a man and make a clean breast of the transaction. The people of the district would appreciate it very much.

"I charged Mr. Bell with being faithless to the people of Boston in incorporating in the loan bill $35,000 for that tract. I now reiterate the charge. He dare not deny for I have the proof of it in my possession.

Mr. Cusick, the other candidate, is the attorney for the Milk Trust. I want to ask Mr. Cusick to explain to the voters of the district why he voted for the shoe machinery bill. I charge Mr. Cusick with selling for special legislation in the interests of the trusts, as against the wishes of the people."

At the conclusion of Mr. Bates's speech he was questioned by ex-Alderman Stevens as to how he stood on the local option bill should he be elected and called upon to vote. Mr. Bates replied that he was with the people of Dorchester in their fight for local option. This reply was greeted with tremendous applause.

Predicts Moran's Election.

Timothy J. O'Donnell, the candidate for the lower branch of the Legislature, made a stirring address.

"I have been an independent voter all my life," said Mr. O'Donnell, "and when I studied the principles of the Independence League I came to the conclusion at once that I would enlist under the banner of the new party."

William P. Sawyer, candidate for the Senate in the district made up of Wards 22, 23 and 24, said that he was certain that John B. Moran will be elected.

Thomas F. Phelan, the last speaker, called attention to the rare excellence of the candidates of the Independence League party in the State.

"ROOSEVELT WORST ENEMY OF LIBERTY"

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Nov. 1.—"Theodore Roosevelt is the greatest foe to constitutional liberty this country has ever known. It is my belief that the late session in Wall Street was principally due to his high-handed policies."

John W. Aling, a leading lawyer, delivered this and other even more vitriolic attacks against the President during a debate with Henry Clews before the New Haven Economic Club to-night.

Mr. Clews, indirectly defending the President, declared that Wall Street's recent reverses had its origin in the common belief of the people that the great corporations are being dishonestly managed. But he inferred that, if a presidential election were held this year, it would go hard with the administration.

The debaters were brought together to discuss the question, "Is the Financial Policy of President Roosevelt Sound?"

Mr. Aling lost no time in beginning his denunciation of the Chief Executive. He said:

"Roosevelt, like the blind Samson of old, has pulled down the pillars around his head to secure the destruction of his imaginary Philistines. The pillars of financial credit, trust and confidence which support the temple of our nation in commerce and well-being have all fallen beneath his grip upon them. He has shown himself bitterly hostile to great business wealth and his aim has been to break it up. He has employed the federal statutes, not so much to enforce them as to destroy the large business wealth.

"He has disdained all party politics. In his grand, lofty way, he has always called them 'my policies.' The havoc wrought by the Roosevelt crusade against the railroads runs up into billions of dollars and into the hundreds of thousands of individuals. Every savings bank, every benefit society, and thus every community, has been menaced by the 'policies' of this man. And this so-called statesman, President Roosevelt, not content with the havoc already wrought, is determined that Congress shall still further regulate, control and restrain railroad capital.

"Arrogant, conceited—the most arrogant and conceited man in the United States—he claims to be gifted with supernatural power to detect and punish the wealthy malefactor. But no man ever accomplish what he promises. He is the most dangerous foe to constitutional liberty who ever existed in this country."

BOSTON MAN ENDS LIFE AT PORTSMOUTH

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 1.—Walter N. Jackson of Boston, who came here on Tuesday to work in the cafe of Samuel Young, at No. 10 How street, committed suicide early to-day by shooting himself in the head with a thirty-eight-caliber revolver.

Mr. Young discovered the body, when he opened his place at 6 o'clock, lying on the floor, with a bullet hole in the left temple. He notified Medical Referee A. J. Lane and the police, and Undertaker O. W. Ham removed the body.

Jackson was not well known here, but he seemed in perfect health and was lighthearted. No motive is known for his suicide. He formerly lived in Maine, but had recently been employed in Boston. He was fifty years old, and a Mason.

70-YEAR-OLD YANKEE A RUSSIAN COSSACK

NORTHBORO, Nov. 1.—Eli Carter, at the age of seventy years disappeared from this town several weeks ago and hunt as they would, his wife and her attorney could not find him. Now, however, he has sent word about himself. He says:

"I am now in Russian Siberia, a member of a troupe of Cossacks. Am having a hot time in this old country, under the ban of the Russian government. I am known as the White Whiskered Daredevil.

Charles V. was the mightiest monarch of his day. He was a man of broad views in certain matters and far-seeing in his judgment. Tired of royal splendor and broken in spirit he concluded his days in a cloister. When disease invades the body discontent seizes it's human soul. His becomes a burden and all duty is irksome. By taking Dr. Burkhart's Vegetable Compound a new life element is infused into the system and the blood surcharged with poisonous substances is freed of all impurities, and is changed into a pure, fresh, vitalizing force, which terminates disease. Cases with the following symptoms speedily and radically cured: Pains in the side, back and under the shoulder blades, coated tongue, loss of appetite, constipation, bunting in the head, sour, sick and bloated stomach, etc. Thirty days' treatment 50c. All druggists.

REFUSES TO BELIEVE THAT DAY WED TWICE

Declaring that she was still convinced that Dr. A. Cushman Day did not kill himself, and that she believed a searching investigation should be made into his death, Mrs. Estelle Callahan Day, the pretty East Boston nurse, whom the physician wed but three days before he committed suicide in the West Roxbury woods, refuses to be considered that Dr. Day had been wedded before.

While the first wife of Dr. Day and his mother were consulting lawyers, in order that their interests and that of the little three-year-old daughter of the dead physician might be protected, the three-days' bride expressed her disbelief in the claims of Mrs. Marina Thompson to being the widow of Dr. Day.

"If the young woman is telling the truth, I am very sorry for her," said Mrs. Estelle Callahan Day. Dr. Day's parents were at one time wealthy and it is probable that the Boston woman wishes to establish a claim to Dr. Day's share of his parents' estate.

Sure He Did Not See First Wife.

"In the six months Dr. Day and I were going together, I can account for nearly every minute of his time, and I am sure he did not see this other woman. Many times he spoke to me about Reddish and it does not seem probable that he would have dared take me there had he had a wife living there.

"When my brother-in-law, Mr. Wilson, went to Boston to arrange about bringing my husband's body to Brooklyn, he was invited to General Bartlett's law office, where he was introduced to this woman and her father. Mr. Wilson was shown an alleged marriage license and other papers, purporting to prove that the Thompson woman was the wife of Dr. Day.

"Mr. Wilson asked the woman if she desired to take possession of the body. She said she did not."

Will Not Part with Child

"It is possible my attorney may wish me to take my child to Brooklyn to visit my late husband's aged mother," said Mrs. Cushman Day.

"If my counsel wishes me to take my child to New York I will do so," she said, "but as to the members of the Day family wanting to adopt the child, why no money on earth could tempt me to part with my dear little girl."

Mrs. Day has retained as counsel Gen. Charles W. Bartlett in securing her rights in the matrimonial entanglement which has arisen out of the suicide of the young doctor.

In an interview William Thompson, father of Mrs. Day, said that he and Mrs. Day's counsel would look after the property of Dr. Day, and that his daughter's interests would be most carefully taken care of.

"One of the members of Mrs. Day's counsel will go to New York and meet counsel for the Day family.

UNION WORKERS DEMAND DRAPER EXPLAIN STAND

Four questions were propounded for Lieutenant Governor Draper to answer at an anti-Draper rally of labor men of Brighton and Allston, in Parnell Hall, Brighton. The meeting was held under the direction of Allston Lodge, No. 107, International Association of Car Workers, and the questions asked were:

"Do you stand for the eight-hour work day?

"Do you believe a man should have the right to join the trade union of his craft?

"Would you meet a committee of a trade union?

"If your men did organize, would you meet a committee to perfect an arbitration agreement to prevent strikes or lockouts?"

That Lieutenant-Governor Draper answer the questions publicly was the expressed demand of Mr. Driscoll and the other speakers at the meeting. President William S. Johnson of Lodge No. 107 presided and the speakers, in addition to Mr. Driscoll, included Philip H. Sweet, vice-president of the State Branch, A. F. of L.; George P. Tapp, chairman of the organizing committee of the Boston C. L. U., and Thomas J. Minihan, international organizer of the Teamsters' Union. All the speakers vigorously condemned Lieutenant-Governor Draper.

AWARD $24,416 FOR INJURIES ON THE B. & M.

Special to the Boston American.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 1.—Harry L. Piper, a former employe of the American Express Company, was given the largest recompense for injuries ever before returned by a jury in a negligence suit, when he was to-day awarded $24,416.66. He sued the Boston & Maine railroad for $20,000, and this is also the first time that a jury has ever given more damages than was sought by the plaintiff.

The rail defendant in the American Express Company, as under its contract with the railroad it assumes liability for injuries sustained by its employes.

Piper was hurt while passing through the Concord trainshed on February 8, 1906, by being struck by a switching engine. He returned to work, but later developed nervous trouble, and was described as being in a serious condition. He is thirty years old, has a wife and one child, and lives in this city.

TEAR UP RAILS, PUT IN GRADE CROSSING

SOMERSET, Pa., Nov. 1.—Early yesterday several hundred farmers tore up the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near here, and before officials of the company were aware of the action put in a grade crossing for the Pennsylvania & Maryland Street Railway Company. The Baltimore & Ohio has refused to allow the trolley company to cross their tracks.

LIVE WIRE IN STORE STARTS $10,000 FIRE

A fire in the four-story brick building at No. 1284 Tremont street, occurred at 6:30 a. m. to-day damaging the stock of millinery carried by A. W. Bennett to the extent of $10,000, which was partly covered by insurance.

The elevator operator, John Hackett upon opening the street door, smelled smoke, and traced it to the electrical apparatus. The flames were quickly subdued.

Mr. Bennett's stock of valuable ostrich feathers was completely ruined.

Robert C. Murray, who occupies the room directly beneath that of Bennett and who has only been in the building a few days was damaged to the extent of $500. The fire was caused by a live wire.

CROKER DOWNS KING IN NEWMARKET RACE

NEWMARKET, Eng., Nov. 1.—With the victory of Richard Croker's mare Rhodora over King Edward's horse Perrier in yesterday's race for the Jubilee Stakes, the former Tammany head fastened his hold upon the much-coveted position of being a leader among British turfmen. Rhodora was considered an outsider, and the betting was 100 to 7 against her. She won easily by two lengths in a field of nine horses. Jockey W. Bullock was riding her.

LOWELL PASTOR SAYS HE ACTED 'AS SPOTTER'

LOWELL, Nov. 1.—Rev. George B. Ivean, pastor of the St. Paul's Methodist Church, acted as a spotter in the Waverly Hotel on different occasions, according to his testimony during the hearing of charges of malfeasance in office against Commissioners Joseph Jennings and John W. McEvoy. The pastor said that in company with Rev. George F. Kenngott and Edwin S. Knight on different Sundays he witnessed illegal sales of liquor at the Waverly Hotel. He also said Rev. Arthur P. Wedge, pastor of the Warthen Street Baptist Church, accompanied him on trips to other hotels in search of evidence. Allegations of bad faith in deciding several hotel cases have been made against the commissioners.

SENTENCE TO DEATH RUSSIAN REBEL SAILORS

Special Cable to Boston American.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 1.—But three of the fifty men on the destroyer Skory who mutinied and gave battle to other war vessels at Vladivostok were alive when the vessel drifted to the beach in a disabled condition at the close of the struggle, according to dispatches received here.

These three rebels will be shot. They were captured by troops as they struggled through the surf to shore.

It had been planned by the mutineers to start the revolt on land and sea simultaneously, but this scheme was frustrated by the loyal chasseurs, who, on the first sign of an outbreak shot sixty of the mutinous miners, thus effectually checking the movement on shore.

MERGER TALK AT PROVIDENCE

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 1.—The rumor in circulation in regard to the merger of the Neptune line, running from Fall River, and the Joy line, operating two steamers between this port and New York, from what can be learned, is unfounded, yet there is room for belief that something of the sort may happen before long. The report was that the interests controlling the Neptune line had absorbed the Joy line and that the merger would be called the Merchants Steamship Company.

Willard G. Stone, agent of the Joy line in this city, stated that he did not know anything about it, and if it was to happen he would most likely have been notified. He further stated that there has been several reports of the same nature for some time, but nothing had been learned definitely. He did not credit the rumor.

BILLET POOL AGAIN.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 1.—A series of conferences looking to the establishment of the old billet pool were held during the week in the offices of the Carnegie Steel Company's here. It is understood that an understanding was reached by which steel trade must be saved from ruinous competition.

BANK CASHIER KILLS HIMSELF

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 1.—Frank Crocker, cashier of the First National Savings Bank of Charlton, committed suicide early yesterday. His daughter found him dead in bed. He had taken morphine. The bank has been closed and an investigation will be started.

Worry over losses sustained in alleged use of the Modern Woodmen funds is believed to be the cause. Crocker left a note saying:

"I cannot bear this strain any longer."

BOY KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTO; MAY DIE

Francis Lane, ten years old, son of D. J. Lane, a fireman connected with Engine 13, was struck down by an automobile in front of No. 1340 Tremont street, yesterday, while on his way to his home, No. 264 Parker Hill avenue, Roxbury, fracturing his skull and causing internal injuries from which it is thought at the City Hospital he will die. The auto was owned by Francis M. Hathaway, of No. 1766 Beacon street, Brookline.

LOSES HIS JOB, KILLS HIMSELF

FITCHBURG, Nov. 1.—Thomas M. Manix aged forty-one, residing at No. 61 South street, committed suicide at 6 a. m. today in the cellar of his home by blowing his head off with a shotgun. He arose early and went into the cellar in his night gown and rigged up an old wooden gun, exploding it in front of both eyes, dying almost instantly.

Drs. Murry and Stinson were called, but arrived too late. Mr. Manix was employed as foreman in the machine shop of the Fitchburg Steam Engine Works, but lost his position last Monday. This is believed to have caused the despondency, which led to his suicide.

Manix was one of the most popular men in this city, was a member of the Knights of Columbus and other societies. He is survived by his wife and five small children, three sisters, Mrs. McMurray, Julia and Mary, and one brother, Daniel F. Manix, of this city.

KEEPING DOWN THE COST OF LIVING

A Mother Tells How It Was Reduced in Her Home.

While the cost of living has increased 30 per cent. or 40 per cent., the fact that wages have increased less than 10 per cent., has made the struggle of life very hard to bear, and when sickness has added to the burden it has been, indeed, an uphill fight.

How to save doctors' bills is one of the most important considerations with the average family, and the success of Mrs. V. Gideon, of Lawrence, Mass., in this direction is told here for the benefit it will be to others. Mrs. Gideon says: "My oldest daughter was subject to tonsilitis sore throat from infancy, and each winter has been under a physician's care. I am pleased to say that the use of Father John's Medicine has helped her and my other little girl so much that it has not been necessary to call a doctor this winter, the first time in six years that we have not had to pay doctor's bills. As we have said before, this old remedy nourishes and builds up the body, gives the system vital force and fighting power to ward off disease. It cures all throat and lung troubles, and is the best remedy ever prescribed for consumption. Prevents pneumonia. By keeping this medicine always on hand you will save doctors' bills, too.

Shirts

A gigantic sale of real, genuine bona-fide $1.00 quality negligee SHIRTS for MEN 59c

We positively grantee these shirts to be a quality as good or better than another store offered last Saturday at 69c. Our price is 59c and they are not $1.50 shirts, but they are positively the best $1.00 shirts in the city of Boston. We sell them regularly at 98c, and we have sold thousands at that price.

READ THIS

No doubt we could bring more men into our store Saturday if we advertised these shirts at $1.50 values, as the other store we virred to did last Saturday, but we wouldn't sell as many shirts, because we believe that our custom have good common sense enough to know the difference between a $1 and a $1.50 shirt, and who not believe we could deceive them if we wanted to. We are building up a tremendous men's furning business and it is founded on a strictly legitimate basis. We believe in being "on the square," anwhen you come in here and buy shirts we want you to be so well pleased that you will come back we you want another supply. Most of these shirts are positively superior to the ones offered by the othstore we referred to at 69c, and which they advertised as $1.50 values.

We have plenty of coat sits in this lot, also an abundance of regular styles, cuffs attached or separate and by far the largest and most attractivsplay of new designs shown by any store in Boston. We guarantee that if you will inspect these shirts at 59c Saturday you will buyyer season's supply right here, out of this lot, and get them at just about half price.

MINERS' WAGES TO BE REDUCED BY CALUMET

CALUMET, Mich., Nov. 2.—The Calumet & Hecla has posted the following notice regarding wages:

"Beginning December 1 wages of all classes of labor at the Calumet & Hecla mills will be reduced and on that date the company will add 1 per cent. to regular wage scale instead of 22½ per cent. that was added January 1, 1907."

On the Osceola and Kearsarge lodes the reduction will be 12 per cent.

It is expected that other Michigan copper companies will follow the lead of the Calumet & Hecla and announce reductions.

GEE! IT'S GREAT TO BE A TRU ANT

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Fifty little truants from the Manhattan Truant School, No. 215 East Twenty-first street, were taken to the New York Hippodrome yesterday afternoon, as a reward for good conduct. They were the guests of the Countess Von Boos-Farrer, who is deeply interested in alleviating the condition of the poor on the East Side.

The Countess chartered a sight-seeing automobile to call for the youngsters before the matinee and take them back to the truant school after the performances of "Neptune's Daughter" and "Pioneer Days."

Between the acts the Countess treated all the truants to ice cream and cake, which was served in the jungle room of the Hippodrome.

ESCAPED VT. CONVICTS CAUSE TERROR REIGN

FARMERS ARM WITH SHOTGUNS AND GUARD HOMES IN FEAR OF ATTACK.

WINDSOR, Vt., Nov. 1.—Armed men are also and Claremont armed themselves and stood guard over their homes. Women and children were not left alone where it was possible for husbands and fathers to remain at home. In some places the doors and windows were nailed up to prevent the burglars from entering.

It took Armour and Germain several months to perfect their plans of escape. They worked in the lasting shop and from time to time secured small pieces of twine. This they slowly formed into a rope by braiding the pieces together until they had a line probably seventy feet long. The prison officials believe they kept the rope in two sections fastened round their bodies.

Made Daring Escape.

Somewhere they secured an auger with which they bored through the plastering and boards above their cell. On top of a two-inch board they encountered four inches of brick and mortar. This they pushed upward until they had a hole large enough for each to crawl through.

Once outside the cell they made their way to the attic, bored a hole through the roof, smashed a number of slate tiles, got to the eaves, and then by means of the rope slide to the ground. That was a drop of sixty feet.

Superintendent Lovell was awakened by the noise of the slates falling, but thought nothing of it and went back to sleep. Now he is trying to secure bloodhounds to recapture the men, but says he has no guards to spare from the defence of the jail to trail the convicts.

As the men will soon have to come out of the woods in search of food and clothing, residents of the town about Windsor expect to have a battle with them at any time.

The men were sentenced from Burlington for burglary. They had two years to serve.

Actions speak louder than words.

John B. Moran's ACTIONS have prevented the grafters from stealing City Hall.

NEGRO'S ATTACK ON JAIL GUARD FOR REVENGE

A sudden, overpowering desire for revenge is thought to have been the cause of a desperate attack made on Officer John Townsend of Charlestown State Prison by William Wilfred, a negro, who is serving time for breaking and entering.

Officer Townsend says that he once reported Wilfred for some eight misdemeanor and that the negro probably had it in for him.

Wilfred was overpowered by the other convicts and officers, after he had knocked Townsend down, secured his pistol and had fired one shot at the prostrate officer, the shot missed. Wilfred's case is now under investigation.

Officer Townsend's story is: "Between 4:30 and 4:45 o'clock last evening, when I was passing a bench in the paper and box shop, Wilfred jumped up from his bench and struck me in the face, and as I was recovering from his blow, attempted to get my pistol. Before I realized what was happening Wilfred got my pistol and fired one shot. No one was hit. Before he pulled the trigger again the other prisoners had jumped on him and taken the pistol away. Wilfred was always considered one of the best men in the prison. Some time ago I reported him for a slight misdemeanor, and I think he had it in for me since then. I don't bear him any ill-will."

17 JAILED ON COMPLAINT OF PASTOR, FREED

WEBSTER, Mass., Nov. 1.—It is not a disturbance of the peace and not unlawful to leave a church during service provided the departure is made in an orderly manner. This decision, handed down by Judge Henry B. Clarke, establishes a precedent in church regulation. As a result the seventeen of the 100 or more parishioners who left the Polish Catholic Church during celebration of the mass last Sunday, and who were arrested on Fr. Chalupka's complaint, were discharged. The pastor and his priests testified that the departure of the hostile portion of his congregation interrupted the service for five minutes, but the defendants' attorney maintained that they had a right to act as they did since they walked out of the church quietly and without making a demonstration.

LEARN TO EAT.

Few People in Boston Really Know How.

This is not an essay on table manners.

It is simply a little good advice about one of the great American defects—too rapid eating.

Nothing makes life so miserable, or interferes so widely with the usefulness of the average American, as indigestion.

The quicklunch counters and the great majority of restaurants, even the home dining-rooms, are simply manufactories of stomach troubles.

Slow eating will solve one-half the problem of ill health. Those who suffer already with indigestion and weak stomach can with care and the use of Mi-ona stomach tablets restore their digestion to a healthy condition, so that they can eat what they want at any time without fear of distress or suffering.

After a few days' use of Mi-ona stomach tablets, the headache, dizzy feeling, drowsiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, nervousness, sleeplessness, distress after eating—all those symptoms of a weak stomach will disappear, and perfect digestion and a good skin will show that the vital machinery is once more running smoothly.

Take a little Mi-ona tablet before each meal, so that it will stimulate the digestive juices and give strength to the stomach, and then it will take care of the food that is eaten, without indigestion and the unpleasant full feeling with which so many suffer after meals.

Mi-ona is sold by druggists everywhere for 50 cents, and we positively guarantee to refund your money should you purchase a box and be dissatisfied with results. Write for free sample, addressing Booth's Mi-ona, Box 977, Buffalo, N. Y.

HEAR HISGEN TO-MORROW ON REAL ISSUES

Benevento's band will assist, and the speeches—like all League speeches—will be short, sharp and straight to the point.

With Mr. Hisgen will appear E. Gerry Brown, Independence League candidate for Lieutenant-Governor; Granville S. MacFarland, formerly chairman of the executive committee of the Democratic State Committee; Washington A. Coles, famous up and down the State as Dorchester's blind orator, and others of the best speakers of the League in Massachusetts.

An Old-Fashioned Rally.

None of the speeches will be of the present-day type of "you're another," the style fostered and encouraged by the trusts. The Tremont Temple rally will be one of the old-fashioned sort. You remember them. The kind where the issues are talked about the real issues.

Plain English will be used in talking about the merger, the Mills rule, the increasing cost of living and many other things that come straight home to the voters of Massachusetts.

Go to Tremont Temple to-morrow night. Hear Mr. Hisgen. See what manner of man he is.

Find out, FOR YOURSELF, what this Independence League is and what it means.

Then do your own thinking.

There are some—not many—tickets left for the first balcony of Tremont Temple, the only section reserved for to-morrow night. As long as they last these first balcony tickets may be had for the asking at the State headquarters of the Independence League, No. 348 Old South Building.

The floor and the upper balcony will be open to the public.

GREAT CROWD LAST DAY OF AUTO SHOW

Exhibition a Big Success, and To-morrow the One in the Garden Will Open.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The Palace auto show is over and to-morrow the one in the Garden will open.

The exhibition proved more successful than had been anticipated. Those who dropped in the last day and who will be busy at the Garden show next week expressed themselves as surprised at the showing of the unlicensed cars. They made a fine display and earned many words of commendation from their owners.

A great crowd was present last night and the management is satisfied with the attendance figures.

Every phase of the demand for high grade cars, a medium price has been catered to by the Crawford in making its plans for the season of 1908, and as a result its line consists of five models, ranging from 35 to 50 horsepower. Model D is a three-passenger runabout, rated at 35 horsepower and having a 112-inch wheel base, while Model H, the chauffeur driven, fitted with a touring body, the wheel base being 130 inches. Model F is a 40 horsepower touring car, seating five, while model F is a 50 horsepower machine, which is listed in both touring and limousine types, and has a capacity of seven passengers in either form.

The specifications of all these models are practically uniform where the design and construction is concerned. All are equipped with magneto-ignition, multiple disc clutch, selective type of change speed gear, and shaft drive, the wheel bases ranging from 106 inches, in the case of the 35 horsepower touring car, to 118 inches in the model F, 50 horsepower car, while the weights range from 2,300 to 3,600 pounds.

The newcomer in the Glide line, handled by the Crown Motor Company in Boston, is known as model H, and is a 60-horsepower car of seven-passenger capacity.

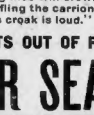
6 MONTHS TO LIVE

Was all the local doctors gave Mr. Champney, a prominent farmer of Fitzwilliam, N. H.

Mr. Fred Champney, a prominent farmer who resides in Fitzwilliam, N. H., says: "Our local doctor diagnosed my case as cancer of the liver. He said that nothing could possibly save me, and that I could not live more than six months. I noticed a terrible pain in my right side, and my appetite was poor. I was so weak I could hardly walk. I had become discouraged and was told that my trouble was incurable. I found the Osmo-Chemic treatment agreeable and remarkably effective. I am now feeling well and strong, and have been condemned to death within six months I feel remarkably robust."

BAPTIST DELEGATE

To the Boston convention relates his experience with the new treatment for diseases of the head, throat and chest.



Mr. H. P. Peterson, delegate to the Baptist convention at Boston, Sept. 15, 1907, who resides at 39 Church st., Chandler, Mass., says: "While at the convention my suffering from catarrh was so apparent that a gentleman whom I met told me of the Osmo-Chemic treatment and the good they had done him for suffering humanity, and advised me to take three treat me. They had cured him and he felt assured that they could cure me. Although I had failed to obtain relief from other sources, I decided to take the treatment and was rejoiced to find the Osmo-Chemic Physicians, who benefited me at once. Now I feel better than I have felt in years."

FREE PEOPLE FROM TRUSTS' GRIP, URGES HISGEN

Tremendous Enthusiasm Greets Stirring Appeal by Independence League Candidate at the Worcester Rally.

WORCESTER, Nov. 1.—Enthusiasm that sometimes broke into the wildest outbursts of approval marked the rally of the Independence League at Mechanics Hall in this city last evening. More than 1000 men and women gathered in the large hall to hear the issues of the campaign discussed from the standpoint of the League.

The audience was a very representative one. In it were some of the stalwarts of the two old parties. Labor men predominated. A feature of the meeting was the fact that but a very few of the audience had left when the speakers had finished, although it was about 10:30 o'clock.

The speakers were Thomas L. Hisgen, candidate for Governor on the League ticket, E. Gerry Brown, candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, Frank A. Goldthwaite, the blind orator, who was befriended by Hisgen, and Junius T. Auerbach, the Boston attorney.

Coles Tells of Hisgen.

A musical programme was rendered by a band in front of the hall between 7:30 and 8 o'clock. Long before that time the crowd had begun to gather in the hall. The main floor began to fill up and when the meeting was opened there were several hundred in the balcony.

The first demonstration occurred when the speakers filed on the stage, escorted by Charles Cullen, president of the Worcester Central Labor Union. Mr. Cullen called the meeting to order in appropriate words and introduced Mr. Coles as the first speaker.

The eloquent blind man soon had the audience under his spell and they clung to his every period. Mr. Cole told of the business life of the Hisgens as he had known them when he was a boy. Speaking of Tom Hisgen as a boy, he said:

"As a boy Tom Hisgen was always ready to help the weak. He was for the fellow who had an unequal fight on his hands. That characteristic has always remained with him. When he got older he naturally was a foe to monopoly."

This was followed by the pathetic story of how he had been stricken blind in the night and was on the verge of self-destruction when Hisgen visited him, cheered him up and was responsible in getting for him the money with which he had fitted himself to earn a living.

Women Moved to Tears.

The recital of this story, men in the audience said after the meeting, was one of the most effective pieces of oratory they had ever heard. Many women in the audience were in tears.

"I ask you to vote for Tom Hisgen," said the speaker in his conclusion, "because he is not a corruptionist, not a grafter but an honest man who, if elevated to the office of Governor, will be an honor to this great State."

The oration given to Mr. Hisgen was such a hearty one that it brought a flush to his cheeks. It was some time before he could fully get control of his feelings and when he did he made one of the strongest speeches, those who have heard him say, that he has made since the beginning of the campaign.

People in Fight for Lives.

"The Independence League," said Mr. Hisgen, "is the only party that stands for the greatest good to the greatest number of people. If the people of Worcester and of other sections of the State do their duty victory will perch upon our banner.

"Vote for the democracy of Jefferson and the republicanism of Lincoln under the standard of the Independence League. And I wish to ask you not to forget the man who is spending his efforts and his money in fighting the battles of the people, William Randolph Hearst."

Mr. Hisgen took up the recent telephone investigation and declared that the commission which conducted the hearings had done all that they could to block a real inquiry into the matter than they did to smear it in the fashion.

In his discussion of railroad discrimination, Mr. Hisgen said: "If I am elected Governor, the first thing I will do is to clean out every commission at the State House. And then if the railroads do not trest us right we will take them and run them ourselves."

When the League leader made this statement the audience shouted their approval until their voices shook the great building. Hisgen scored Guild severely for killing the anti-discrimination bill.

A Few Words to the Women.

"I wish to speak a few words to the ladies," said Mr. Hisgen. "They can easily understand the issues of this campaign. They are the ones who have to do the bookkeeping in the homes at the end of the week. And that bookkeeping is a pitiable thing at times.

"As they see the prices soaring beyond their reach and their purses remaining the same, it becomes almost impossible to make both ends meet.

"And that is the real issue of this campaign, because the monopolies are responsible for the high prices, and both Guild and Whitney are money monopolists."

Just as Mr. Brown was introduced the band played "America." The grizzled battler for the rights of the workingman was greeted with applause that was vociferous and prolonged. He began by telling something of the Democratic convention at Springfield and declared that Republican money had caused the rupture that disgraced the old party and demoralized it.

Whole Ticket by Commission.

"To-day we have a Democratic party by commission," said Mr. Brown. "We have not only a candidate for Governor by commission, but a whole ticket by commission. And not only that, but think of it, gentlemen, we have Democratic principles by commission.

"Whitney chose Mr. Schofield for his running mate. Whitney is for tariff reform and we have Mr. Schofield on record in the Legislature as against tariff revision."

Mr. Brown declared that neither the Democrats nor the Republicans had any issues. The real issues, he said, was the issues that arise out of the fight the great mass of toilers have to earn a living.

"Wealth belongs to those who produce it," declared Mr. Brown, "the people are enslaved to watered stocks and bonds that are issued with no equivalent in labor."

"The Republican party loves the labor man: yes, very dearly about election time," declared Junius T. Auerbach. "The party also loves the dear old soldier when it wants his vote and up in Hudson the party has cut off the State aid of several old soldiers.

"The Overtime bill was kept from being a law for twelve years by the Republicans. It was labor and public opinion that passed it. Guild never signed the bill until he was forced to do so. And as for Whitney, only the hired delegates wanted him—not the people.

MANSFIELD VOTERS PACK HALL, CHEER FOR HISGEN

ROUSING LEAGUE RALLY HELD IN MANUFACTURING TOWN LAST NIGHT.

MANSFIELD, Nov. 1.—The largest political gathering held in this town this year was the rally last night in the Town Hall in the interests of Thomas L. Hisgen, Independence League candidate for Governor, and his associates on the State ticket.

Preceding the opening of the rally a drum corps followed by young men carrying torches, red fire and transparencies marched about the principal streets and then drew up in front of the hall where their music and enthusiasm livened up the gathering.

The speakers included Hon. William N. Osgood of Lowell, League candidate for Attorney-General; Thomas E. Finnerty of Clinton, candidate for State Auditor, and Herbert E. Bryant of Plymouth, a leading organizer of the trades union movement. William F. Fleming, a member of the Iron Moulders' Union of Foxboro, presided.

Mr. Osgood was the first speaker and said in part:

Mr. Lodge is taking a good deal of notice of Whitney and little of Hisgen. Wait till the votes are counted on election day and our Republican leader will discover his mistake.

Mr. Lodge is an awful dodger. In his speech of Tuesday night he took pains to state his position on several questions, but when he approached the "Merger question" he balked and said:

"I am not competent to say at this time that I have an opinion as to whether the merger of these two great railroads will be a benefit to Massachusetts or not."

There is no difference between the Republican and Democratic parties so far as the people are concerned," declared Thomas E. Finnerty.

"The leaders of each play into the hands of the others.

"Whitney don't want the governorship. He knows it. It does not matter what happened at Springfield. All he does is to step into this fight to keep out another man from getting the position who will help the working people and give them their honest rights."

Herbert E. Bryant of Plymouth followed Mr. Finnerty. His speech dealt with the principles and platform of the Independence League and the League's work in behalf of the labor union.

"With all due regard, I make the statement that the labor union is the only body that has succeeded in getting anything for the people, and I have never heard from the lips of any other candidate but Thomas L. Hisgen that he was interested in the labor unions and that he would do his utmost for the benefit of trade unions."

This statement brought forth a round of applause and it was several minutes before Mr. Bryant could proceed.

His closing statement was greeted with handclapping and applause.

"The only man I see for the people of Massachusetts are Thomas L. Hisgen and E. Gerry Brown."

BOTH FATHER AND SON JOIN HISGEN BAND

"The one and only hope the working man has to-day is in the Independence League. Democrats and Republicans both cater to the capitalists at the expense of the voter and wage earner."

The above statement is the way in which William P. Ware, a building mover, living at No. 34 Bristol street, Cambridge, sizes up the political situation.

Mr. Ware has been voting the Democratic ticket for many years, but he says he will cast his vote for Thomas L. Hisgen at the polls this election.

George P. Ware, who has always followed in his father's footsteps, has also announced the Democratic party and taken up the Independence League banner.

The exhibition at Springfield shows now Democracy is run to-day," the younger Mr. Ware said. "Only politics will never get my vote."

Both the elder and the younger Ware are well known residents of the University city, and they are but two of a great number of Democrats who will vote for Hisgen.

HISGEN TALKS IN HIS HOME CITY TONIGHT

Three Big League Rallies Scheduled at Springfield, Holyoke and Northampton.

Thomas L. Hisgen goes "home" to-night, home to speak in Springfield.

Mr. Hisgen will also speak to-night in Holyoke, while E. Gerry Brown and others will speak in Holyoke and Northampton.

These three rallies mark the beginning of the end of the Independence League campaign, most of the leading speakers coming directly to Boston for to-morrow night's big meeting in the Tremont Temple. The Tremont Temple rally should be the most important affair of the kind that Boston has known during this campaign.

The rally in Springfield to-night will be held in the Court Square Theatre, where the Whitney and the Bartlett "conventions" were held on Saturday, October 5. Mr. Hisgen belongs in West Springfield, across the river.

Hisgen Extremely Popular.

His business interests in Springfield are big and important. He is extremely popular throughout Hampden County. He was sure of a big Springfield vote, even before the Kiley-Cony "conventions."

With Mr. Hisgen at Springfield will appear the Rev. Roland B. Sawyer of Haverhill, Washington A. Coles, the blind orator of Dorchester, and E. Gerry Brown, League candidate for Lieutenant-Governor.

The rally in Temperance Hall at Holyoke, home of the late Milton Bradley, will be opened by Mr. Hisgen, who then jumps from Holyoke to Springfield by motor car. Thomas E. Finnerty of Clinton, League candidate for State Auditor, the Hon. William N. Osgood of Lowell and Boston, League candidate for Attorney-General, and Washington A. Coles will follow Mr. Hisgen. Mr. Coles is making a big campaign field immediately after his talk in the Court Square Theatre.

Big Rally To-morrow Night.

At Northampton, the speakers will be E. Gerry Brown, coming direct from Springfield to Springfield. Clement L. Pollock, one of the best informed journalists in Massachusetts upon political matters, Hansdell of Lynn, and Junius T. Auerbach, a Boston attorney, leader of the bar, with inside information concerning how they do things—and, sometimes, how they DON'T do things—in the Massachusetts Legislature.

Meanwhile, everybody within the limits of Greater Boston should have in mind to-morrow night's big rally in Tremont Temple. Messrs. Hisgen, Brown, Sawyer, Coles and others will make bright, snappy, effective and inspiring addresses. We will talk and the rest will be the big campaign Souvenir's Band has arranged.

KISSES LETTER; KILLS HIMSELF UNDER A TRAIN

By Boston American Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—A man who had just torn a letter into small bits killed himself to-day by leaping in front of a fast passenger train from New Haven at the station at One Hundred and Eighty-third street and Park avenue.

Edward Reich, station agent, had observed the man walking up and down the platform as though very nervous and saw him take a letter from his pocket, kiss it several times and tear it into pieces and eats them away. Reich turned to go into the station on hearing the approach of the passenger train and just as he reached his desk he heard the man on the platform scream as the train was thundering by.

The train had passed when Reich got to the platform, and on the track he saw the mutilated body of the man who had kissed and destroyed the letter.

The man was apparently fifty years old, quite well dressed in a gray coat, striped trousers, white linen and new underwear. He was smooth shaven and was partly bald.

DEFENCE OPENS IN PHIPPS DEATH TRIAL

WITNESSES FOR PROSECUTION REVIEW THE TRAGEDY AT LILY POND HOUSE.

Special to the Boston American.

WORCESTER, Nov. 1.—The Superior Criminal Court was crowded to-day when the defence opened for Frank W. Phipps, proprietor of the Lily Pond House, on the Shrewsbury side of Lake Quinsigamond, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Charles L. Burnap, near the Lily Pond House, on July 9.

Phipps, nervous and careworn, sat by the side of his counsel. At 9:30 o'clock counsel for the defendant began his opening address to the jury.

The first witness called yesterday was Dr. F. H. Baker, medical examiner, who told of the autopsy on the body of Burnap and his discovery that death was caused by a bullet wound in the chest which passed through the heart.

Wrangle Over Drinks.

William I. Thompson, a civil engineer, explained plans of the Lily Pond House, which he had prepared by order of District Attorney Tait.

George W. Whitney told of a visit to the Lily Pond House the night of the tragedy with Burnap. "Phipps," said Whitney, appeared to be drunk. There was talk between Phipps and Mrs. Pyne, his housekeeper, about not getting money for one of the drinks, fifty cents dropping on the floor.

"Miss Brennan, a waitress at the Lily Pond House, left the house for a short time and Phipps followed her out. When Burnap and I were leaving the house I went around to a side window and called out 'Hello, Kelley.'

"I could see Kelley through the window and didn't see Phipps at that time, and then I started to run, and ran seventy feet and then lay down and then went across the street. Subsequently I saw Burnap's body the next day near the maple tree.

"I saw the flashes and heard the report of the revolver, and heard a voice which I thought was a man's, near where I saw the maple tree, after leaving the house.

Says Phipps Fired Shots.

Mary Brennan, a waitress at the house the night of the tragedy, testified that that night she saw a revolver in Phipps's back pocket.

"I heard Mrs. Pyne order Burnap and Whitney to leave the house," she said, "and ten minutes later some one outside said 'Hello, Kelley?'

"Phipps jumped up, went outside and fired two shots in the air. He returned to the house and replaced the two cartridges in the revolver. Kelley said, 'Get out the back door, or you will get yourself in trouble.'

"'I don't care,' answered Phipps. A few minutes later I heard Burnap or Whitney say, 'We are coming back to raise the devil.'

"Then I heard four more shots fired, and soon after Phipps came back to the house and replaced four more cartridges in the revolver. I did not know until the following afternoon that anyone had been killed.

"To protect Kelley, who was in the house, I told State Officer Robert E. Mott the day after the shooting that I had fired the shots and he arrested me. Phipps had planned to lay the shooting on Kelley."

Denies He Was Engaged.

Frank J. Kelley, the man whom the girl tried to protect, said that he had heard the four shots fired and later heard Phipps say: "They can't run this house."

Witness denied that he was ever engaged to marry Miss Brennan.

Other witnesses called by the government were Captain Patrick F. O'Day of the Worcester Police Department, Arthur Bartlett, constable at Shrewsbury; James Stevens, who testified that he had sold Phipps and Mrs. Pyne that Burnap had been murdered; D. J. Flynn, who told of the finding of a revolver, and State Officer Mott, who said that Phipps denied to him that he had heard any shots fired or that Burnap had been in his house just before he was killed.

MITCHELL RALLIES AFTER OPERATION

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1.—John Mitchell is reported to have successfully undergone a second operation, this time for an abscess in his side. Word has been received from the miners' headquarters at La Salle, Ill., that he is doing as well as can be expected.

PENNSYLVANIA LEADS; PRICES IRREGULAR

Dividend Declaration Causes Advance That Afterwards Turns to Slump.

COTTON MARKET STEADY

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Announcement of the declaration of the regular Pensylvania dividend was followed by an advance of 1½ per cent in the price of that stock at the opening of the stock market, but else where the price movements were irregular.

The general list, however, showed a steady undertone. Great Northern, Delaware Hudson, Chicago & Northwestern and Southern Pacific were unchanged. Northern Pacific was up 2, Atchison ¾, Union Pacific ⅝, Amalgamated Copper ⅝, American Smelting ½, B. R. T. ½, N. Y. C. down ⅝, Reading ¼, St. Paul ⅜ and United States Steel preferred ¾. By the end of ten minutes' trading Pennsylvania had reacted 1½ per cent, bringing it back to 107, yesterday's final price.

Cotton market opened steady, four to eight points lower:

The Pittsburg Stock Exchange board of directors voted to-day to continue closed.

Chicago banks have notified Comptroller of the Currency Ridgely that they will issue new bank notes, in conformity with his recent suggestion, as follows: National Bankers' National, Continental National and National Bank of the Republic, $1,000,000 each; Commercial National, $2,000,000; First National, $750,000; Monroe National, $100,000, and National City, $50,000. It is expected at least $10,000,000 will be formally taken by Chicago banks.

CATHOLICS OBSERVE GREAT FESTIVAL DAY

The Catholic Church throughout the world celebrates today the feast of All Saints, as one of the greatest festival days in the history of the church. Being a holy day of obligation, the church will issue the decree necessitating the hearing of mass just as on Sunday. In accordance with this mandate, every Catholic is obliged to attend services today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Angered at being made the butt of Hallowe'en pranks, Joseph Barbanero, an Italian boy, fourteen years old, singled out one of his tormentors, charge the police, and shot him through the head. Death resulted in a few minutes. Barbanero threw away the re-

RHEUMATICS ESCAPE CURE BY BEE STINGS

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 1.—The demonstration of bee stinging as a cure for rheumatism, by State Zoologist Surface of Pennsylvania was postponed, at the closing session of the National Bee Keepers' Association to-day, until next year, because of the death of several bees which had been selected for this purpose.

15,000 STRIKE TO-DAY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The Title Realtors' Protective Union strikes to-day. Fifteen thousand boutmen quit work to enforce a demand for an increase in wages of $10 a month. The average wage is now $40.

CHILDREN FIND $100 IN SILVER COINS

BATH, Me., Nov. 1.—While workmen were moving a corner grocery across Court house square, a party of school children found in the dirt a veritable mine of silver coins that had been dropped by customers during the last forty years through the cracks of the platform. The coins were chiefly dimes, quarters, pennies and nickles, and amounted to nearly $100.

VIRGINIA BANK FAILS.

PORTSMOUTH, Va., Nov. 1.—The People's Bank of this city failed this morning. The institution was established in 1853. It had a paid up capital of $50,000 and its deposits are estimated at $470,000.

BOSTON MEN GET DEER RECORD AT 595

BANGOR, Me., Nov. 1.—Heavy rains with gales have been keeping hunters around the camp fires. Receipts on the trains yesterday were twenty-three deer, three moose and one bear. The total kills to date is 595 deer, fifty-two moose and sixteen bears.

Compared with the tally on the corresponding date in 1906, which was 945 deer, sixty-three moose and two bears, a big falling off in the deer record is shown. Bear hunting is rapidly growing in favor as a sport, and bears are fairly plenty. J. H. Henry, of Boston, has two deer and a moose for his score, and W. F. Eastman, of Boston, two deer.

You are a PUBLIC Servant

The people demand a full and accurate accounting of the fees collected by you and your deputies. You declare that the books which contain these accounts have not been destroyed. Upon your own statement you are therefore in a position to supply the facts.

Why won't you answer to the public these three proper Questions?

1st How much money has been received in fees during your incumbency of the office of Sheriff . . . . ?

2nd What division has been made of the money and to whom has it gone . . . . . ?

3rd Has any part of it been turned into the County Treasury, and if so, how much . . . . . ?

Sheriff Seavey, you know, and I know, that not a single return is made by you nor by your Deputies to the County Controller, or to any public official, concerning the amount and disposition of this money.

Make an honest accounting to the people.

Wives and Daughters!

GET the voters in your family to come with you to the Independence League rally in Tremont Temple to-morrow night. Hear Thomas L. Hisgen.

See if you can't DO SOMETHING to restore American Independence and bring the cost of living down to its normal place.

SEATS WILL BE RESERVED FOR LADIES AND THEIR ESCORTS.

Come early, to make sure of getting a good seat, and hear the music by Benevante's Band.

What Hubby Should Wear to Be in Style

LADIES, would you know how youred shirt corners, and a rear vent, but it is husband should be dressed this husband should be dressed, this Winter? A careful designer of men's fashions for the Croonberg Sartorial Academy has thought it all out for you, and the BOSTON AMERICAN Home Page presents the description to-day.

In shoes, shirts, hosiery, collars and neckties he may follow his fancy—or yours—conforming, of course, to the requirements of evening dress or formal day dress.

In hats also he will not go far astray, if he follows the suggestions of the hatter.

But in the matter of externals, the every day business suit, the formal day suit, the dinner suit and the dress suit, there have been many changes since just a year ago, and he may need your judicious guidance.

See That Suit Is Right

For instance, when he wants to get his every day suit for Fall or Winter, see that he is informed as to the newest effect. You want him to look athletic and deep chested, of course, and the wise designer has taken care that the clothes shall make up for any deficiency in nature.

The most comfortable and most attractive every day suit is a three-button, single-breasted sack. The trousers fit snugly around the waist, are large at the hips and taper gracefully to the feet. The coat has a "cheaty" effect, with large flowing lapels, that come well above the waistcoat. The coat is cut away so slightly at the shirt in front as to leave only a small inverted V vent. The sleeve is rather full, with a narrow cuff, and a single button.

The double-breasted three-button sack is similar in general fit and design. Both coats are slightly fitted to the body and are about the same length as last year. There is a four-buttoned sack, with round-

His Dinner Suit

If you want your husband to have a dinner suit, see that he departs from the old shawl collar style. The newest dinner coat has a notched collar, from which moderately broad lapels roll down to the waist line. There is no cutaway, the front waistcoat to go with the dinner coat is V shaped at the top, cut away at the bottom, and may be made in a medium gray.

Should you desire anything ultra-fashionable for your husband in the evening, you may call his attention to the newest thing in an evening suit, which is dark blue, instead of black.

Whether it be blue or black, the new dress suit will have a notched collar, like the dinner coat, instead of the old shawl roll collar, and its lines will be extremely graceful. Doubtless you will show wisdom and advise your husband to stick to black.

The formal day dress coat known as the frock is graceful and attractive. The lapel, faced with silk or half-faced, with silk, is wide and flowing. The skirt is full and extends below the knees. With the coat go the usual striped gray trousers or white puffed tie.

Might Like These

There are a number of others that you might like, such as the morning frock, the semi-dress frock, which is much like the old-fashioned long cutaway coat, and the business frock, which is like nothing else in the world. But these which have been described may be regarded as the staple garments of the year.

The loose fitting overcoat, resting easily on the shoulders, made single-breasted, will be the favorite. You may permit your husband to indulge his taste for form fitting though, if he be minded that way. As for material, he may permit his fancy a wide range, from the staid, smooth black to rough goods in dark plaids and stripes. Gray and brown will be the predominating colors.

Timely Tips for Home Dressmakers

IN knitting it will be found much easier when casting on stitches if using very large needles, to introduce an ordinary steel needle in place of the large one held in the right hand. Use the steel needle for knitting the plain and pass it over the large needle. This is to be done only when casting on stitches.

Sewing on Buttons

When sewing on a button place the knot on the right side of the cloth directly under the button.

Renovate Waist

Instead of discarding waists with worn neckbands many a dollar, to say nothing of the labor of making, may be saved by cutting off the neckband. Make a square or circle neck and finish by lacing over the thin or worn portions insertion or beading, and edge at the corners and edged with a bit of lace.

Allow for Frills

The rule for frilling is to allow one and a half the length of the edge to be trimmed.

In Renovating

Lace collars, fichus and berthas are wonderful possibilities in the way of transforming the character of dress into something dainty and becoming for the evening.

Bachelor Surplus Due to Women Who Work

ONE of the important factors in the increase of celibacy is the wage-earning woman.

In former times, whether a woman was naturally inclined toward matrimony or not, whether she loved or not, whether the man who presented himself as a claimant for her hand came up to her ideal or not, she was obliged to marry not only for a home, but for an interest in life, and a settled position in society.

There was literally nothing for an old maid to be or do. If she was poor, she had to exist as a dependant and hanger-on to the family of some married sister, where she was supposed to justify her existence by doing all the hard jobs that nobody else would do, and be grateful for the chance to do it.

If she was rich she might live in more physical comfort, but she was supposed to lead, and did lead, a starved intellectual and emotional life, because there were so very few things that a maiden lady of whatever age, might do with propriety. No wonder, poor dears, that the girls of the past rushed into matrimony with the first man that asked them, for fear that there might never be a second opportunity.

Not so with the woman of to-day. The one triumphant, glorious fact of the twentieth century is that no woman needs to marry for a home. Any able-bodied girl can make not only bread and butter, but cakes and jam for herself; and as between the ordinary married woman and the ordinary working girl, the working girl has by far lighter labor, better clothes and easier times.

If a single woman has money, the world is all before her to choose from. She may, if she desires absolute independence, set up a home of her own, as Miss Helen Gould, Miss Van Alen and dozens of other rich spinsters have done.

And it's no old maids' retreat, either, with merely tea and cozy to eat, and a dog and a parrot for company; but an establishment that maintains every luxury and every entertainment that the most cultivated and discriminating taste can suggest.

There are thousands of other unmarried women, less rich than the millionnaires, but either possessed of a comfortable, inherited income, or earning good, far salaries, who inhabit the smart apartment hotels of our cities, where they gather their latest and greatest about them and form a life full of refined luxury.

Work and Are Happy

Nor do such women lack for great vital interest to fill their lives. They do not spend their days knitting woollen shirts for the heathen or working tidies.

The working woman, of course, has the absorption of her profession, but the richer woman devotes her time to the great questions of literature and art and politics.

Nearly all of the great women philanthropists are unmarried, but nobody probably ever heard Miss Anthony or Miss Shaw or Miss Jane Addams complain that time hung heavily on her hands.

These great leaders are followed by a multitude of other single women less eminent, but who do great work in the settlements, local reforms, corrective local schools, supplying local needs in every town and city in the land.

All of which goes to prove that we are getting away from the narrow view that the woman who doesn't have a husband and children of her own on which to expend her interest and care and mothering has nothing with which to fill in her life.

It is the, because women have the full life outside of matrimony, just as well as in it. But they show more discretion to marry, and this is both a good thing and a bad thing for humanity at large.

It is a good thing for a woman not to marry unless she loves and takes into sustenance all the great and enthusiasm of her entire being, but it is a deplorable loss to humanity when the women who are great of brain and great of purpose and strong of heart do not marry and raise up families.

Difficult to Win

Such women are the mothers of great man, and we need them to offset the weaklings brought into the world by the silly mothers of humanity.

Still, it is undeniable that to the self-supporting woman who is earning a competent salary matrimony offers fewer and fewer attractions. A man, to win her, has not only to compete with the attractions of other men, but measure up against a good job, and—and, really, there are not so many men that are capable of coming out in the contest.

For, you see, the financially independent woman is pretty particular. Her prayer is not "Anybody, good Lord, anybody!" but, "Lord, send me a MAN, or else preserve me my freedom."

Wage Earner Slow to Give Up Her Freedom

How Any Girl May Succeed in Winning Her Heart's Desire

By Beatrice Fairfax

DID you ever want one thing so desperately that everything else in the world seemed of minor importance?

Morning, noon and night did your whole soul turn to that one thing, and you dream it, live it, talk it until it seemed that it must come to you from sheer determination on your part?

Probably you have felt just that way and probably you have eventually won your heart's desire.

When you want anything very much you unconsciously work toward it all the while. Almost every action on your part bears in some way on the all important subject.

Perseverance, patience and hopefulness are great factors in achieving one's heart's desire.

Don't be discouraged; begin afresh, even if you cannot see that you are gaining one smallest fraction.

Don't talk about your failures; go about with a cheerful face and grim determination in your heart.

Don't Rely on Others

DON'T rely on others to do the work for you. You are the one most interested and you are the one to do the work and the fighting.

Keep your eyes open and let no golden opportunities slip by you.

If your quest is financial success of some kind, I should say that it largely depended on your ability to be alert, observant and patient.

If you are a man and your heart's desire is the love of some girl, don't imagine that you can win her by indifference or neglect.

Gentleness, strength, chivalry are the quickest avenues to a woman's heart.

If you are a woman and your heart is set on winning the love of some man, the one thing to do is not to let him see that you care too much.

Be merry and gentle and sweet, but not too easy of conquest. On the other hand, don't err on the side of indifference.

But whether your desire be business or sentiment, you are the one most interested, you can't sit by and make no effort.

Secret of Success

THE world is a very busy place, you know, and every one, man, woman or child, is working principally in his own interest.

Your neighbor is too much concerned in his own affairs to have more than a friendly interest in yours.

One great secret of success along any line lies in keeping your temper. Bad temper, aside from being unlovely, warps judgment. When your eyes are blinded by anger your sense of proportion is all awry.

Start in with the firm resolve to win; let nothing discourage you, and be resolutely feel that your cause is a worthy one.

The seal that is spent in an unworthy cause is good material wasted.

But, if you are working always toward something that will benefit you in a good way you are developing your character and making a better man or woman of yourself simply through your strength of purpose and perseverance.

GROW EYEBROWS

DEAR PROFESSOR:
Will you please advise me if red vaseline is good to grow eyebrows thicker, because they do not show but a little.
MISS ANNA.

RUB the brows well every night with red vaseline. Lanoline is one of the greatest hair growers, but is so disagreeably sticky that it is not generally used.

CIRCLES UNDER EYES

DEAR PROFESSOR:
Would you kindly advise me what to do for dark circles under the eyes?
M. S.

MASSAGE with cucumber lotion, the formula for which has been given often in this column. Also, as directed, after being assured by your physician that it is not a cure for him, Jarl's circles, especially if they be accentuated, are usually due to some digestive trouble unless caused by dissipation, hard study or loss of sleep.

"THE TURN OF THE BALANCE"

By Brand Whitlock

CHAPTER XVIII.

Copyright, 1907, by American-Journal-Examiner

ALTHOUGH Marriott had promised Koerner early in the Fall that his action against the railroad would be tried at once, he was unable to bring the event to pass.

In the first place, Bradford Ford, the attorney for the railroad, had to go East in his private car, then in the Winter he had to go Florida to get over his golf and because of these and other postponements the case could not, in any event, was finally assigned for trial.

So that's your client back there, is it?" said Ford, the morning of the trial, turning from the window and the lingering Winter outdoors to look at Koerner.

Koerner was sitting by the trial table, his old wife by his side. He was just behind him from his long Winter lodgers; his yellow, wrinkled skin, stretched over his long bones, hung flabby at his throat.

As Ford and Marriott looked at him, a troubled expression appeared in Koerner's face; he did not like to see Marriott in companionship with Ford; he had ugly suspicions; he felt that Marriott should treat his opponent coldly and with the enmity such a contest deserved. But just at that minute Judge Sharlow came in and court was opened.

The trial lasted three days. The benches behind the bar were empty, the bailiff slept with his gray chin on his breast; the clerk copied precedents in his office; spectators now and then to look at the flurries of snow.

Sharlow sat on the bench trying to write an opinion he had been working on for weeks. The jury sat in the jury box, their eyes heavy with the dreadful deadly grossly. Long ago life had passed in those men; they had certain fixed opinions, one of which was that the railroad as a corporation was entitled to damages; and after they had won a verdict, with the stamp of his leg sticking out from his chair, they were ready to render a verdict.

Ways of Justice

Marriott knew this, and Ford knew it, and consequently they gave attention, not to the facts of the case, but to the higher law over the table on which he transcribed his opinions. While Ford pounding with Morton, and Ford were concerned about the record; they saw no judges in the higher courts would be in sympathy with the railroad company, and by any possible means give judgment in its favor; and therefore, while Marriott's efforts were directed toward tying the case in such a way that the record should be free from error, Ford's efforts were directed toward trying the case in such a way that the record should be of error.

Ford was continually objecting to the questions Marriott asked his witnesses and compelling Sharlow to rule upon the pass on those objections.

One of Marriott's witnesses, a stalwart young mechanic, unmarried and with no responsibilities, testified positively that the engineer of Koerner's freight had not had no block in it; he had examined it carefully at the time. Another, a man of middle age, with a large family, an employe of the railroad company, had the most unreliable memory—he could remember nothing at all about the affair; he could not say whether it had been blocked or not; he had not examined it; he had not considered it any of his business.

While giving his testimony he cast fearful and imploring looks at Ford, who smiled complacently, and for a while made no objections.

Another witness was Gergen, the surgeon, a young man with eyeglasses, a fine gold chain, and a scant black beard trimmed closely to his pale skin and sharpened after the French fashion. He refused his evidence kept on his gold glasses while he testified, as if he must get through with his little business and return to his practice as quickly as possible. With the greatest precision he described all his testimony in scientific phrases.

Living Witness

"I was summoned to the hospital," he said, "at 7:40 on that evening and found the patient suffering from concussion of the shock. I supplemented the superficial examination by the internal and found that there were contusions on the left hip, and severe bruises on the entire left side. The most severe injury, however, developed in the right foot. The thoracal articulation was destroyed, the calcaneum and cuneiform were crushed and fragmented, the metatarsus and phalanges, and the internal and external malleolus were also crushed, and the fibula and tibia were disjointed to the knee."

"Well, what then?"

"I gave orders to have the patient prepared, and proceeded to operate. My assistant, Dr. Rosen, administered the anesthetic, and I amputated at the lower third."

Dr. Gergen then explained that what he had said meant that he had found Koerner's foot, ankle and knee crushed, and that he had cut off the leg above the knee. After this he told what fee he had charged; he did this in plain terms, calling dollars dollars, and cents cents.

But Koerner himself was a sufficient witness by his own behalf. Sitting on the stand, his crutches in the hollow of his arm, the stump of his leg thrust straight before him and twitching now and then, he told of his long service with the railroad, pictured the blinding snowstorm, described how he had slipped and caught his foot in the unlocked frog—then the switch engine noiselessly stealing down upon him.

GEN. BOOTH ON "SOUL-SAVING" TOUR IN N. Y.

Tremendous Enthusiasm Greets the General on His Last Visit to America.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Something like one of the old religious revivals that used to stir this town in the days of Moody and Sankey will develop from the visit of General William Booth of the Salvation Army, who arrived in New York to-day.

The ovation to be given the founder and present world-wide head of the great religious organization will be nothing short of a triumph. Governor Hughes is to join in the great series of public functions arranged in his honor, and representatives of every walk of life will contribute to his welcome.

General Booth is nearly four-score years of age. Though he much resembles the patriarchs of old, it is said nevertheless, that this will be his last visit to America.

Tremendous enthusiasm has marked each step of his continental tour. New York is to be the equal, and it is expected that thousands upon thousands will turn out to greet the great "soul specialist" when he makes his public appearance in the New Amsterdam Theatre on Sunday. That day he will preach three times in the same playhouse, at 11 a. m. and 3 and 8 p. m.

Catarrh of The Stomach

A Most Dangerous Disease, Which Causes Serious Results, Unless Properly Treated.

Catarrh of the Stomach is very common and is known as one of the most obstinate diseases, which, when neglected or improperly treated with cheap patent medicines, tonics, drugs, pills, and other secret quack remedies results in a broken down constitution and often consumption and death.

Catarrh of the Stomach, like every other disease of the stomach, except cancer, is the result of an acid condition. The digestive organs have become weak, there is a lack of gastric juice, your food is only half digested, and as a result you become afflicted with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, heartburn, vomiting, waterbrash, tenderness of pit of stomach, slimy tongue, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, pain in limbs and face, nervousness, dizziness, belching of gas, diarrhoea, sick headaches, dizziness, mental depression, nervous weakness, and many other common symptoms.

If your stomach cannot digest the food you eat, then the only way you get a real, as that is the only way you can get rid of your catarrh, but in the meantime your body feeds plenty of nourishment, because it must have it, and in order to live you must eat, and if you must eat, your food must be properly digested, and if your stomach is too weak to do the work, then you must get a substitute that will do the work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the only known substitute that will digest your food as well as any healthy stomach. The active principles of these fruit essences, aseptic pepsin (saccharated), golden seal and diastase, the very elements necessary to digest all foods.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a secret remedy and the very best physicians of all over the United States recommend them to their patients for catarrh of the stomach, dyspepsia of all kinds, and other stomach troubles. Experiments and tests have proven that one grain of the active principle contained in these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are in the form of pleasant little tablets or lozenges and are sold in large fifty-cent boxes at all drug stores.

Send for little booklet on stomach troubles and we will send you a free sample package. The relief you will get from this trial package alone will convince you of the merits of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

OPPONENT OF KIDNEY DODGES HIS CHALLENGE

Sheenan Seeking Ward 17 Election Silent Under Charge of Non-Residence.

Charles J. Kidney, Independence League candidate for the House of Representatives in Ward 17, who has challenged Fred Sheenan of No. 8 Holiday street, Ward 20, Dorchester, to deny the fact that he was formerly registered from Michael S. Drew's residence at No. 149 Exotic street and that he is at the present time registered from a lodging house at No. 165 Dudley street, has not as yet heard from Mr. Sheenan. Mr. Kidney promises to "make the house fit the voters."

At a meeting of his friends last even-ing Mr. Kidney referred his charges that Mr. Sheenan lives at No. 8 Holiday street, Ward 20, Dorchester. He also alleged that Mr. Sheenan, who is his Democratic opponent for a seat in the House, in behalf of the Legislature, understands, or should, how the word "inhabitant" is comprehended by the law.

"Inhabitant" Defined by Authority.

The law, Article 21, Constitution of Massachusetts, Amendments, reads: "Every Representative for one year at least next preceding his election shall have been an inhabitant of the district from which he is chosen."

Webster's dictionary defines the word inhabitant, "One who dwells in a place as distinguished from a transient or occasional lodger or visitor."

Mr. Kidney's running mate on the Independence League ticket, James M. Dunham, who is making a remarkable fight for the House, claims that the Curley have removed it around that they could pick up a Citizens' ticket and give him the Democratic nomination and have the others march up to the polls and vote for him because they labelled on Tuesday.

Mr. Dunham feels confident that the voters of Ward 17 have an inkling around their necks and especially that they are now subscribed to the neck and call of the Curley domination and that this year they will throw off the yoke of oppression that has bound them, through no fault of their own, and assert their lawful rights and privileges.

Last of Curley Dossiers.

Together with Mr. Kidney, Mr. Dunham believes that to do a big part of the friends of both declare, that this is the last of the "Curley ring," that the voters of Ward 17 have been hoodwinked and bulldozed long enough and that when the clerks have finished counting up the ballots next Tuesday the sitting and leaning candidates of the Independence League will be found rising pluck over the self-elected Curley "boss" fetish.

ANTI-DRAPER MASS MEETING

A mass meeting will be held to-night in Teamsters' Hall, No. 14 Broadway Extension, to ratify the action taken by the State Branch of the A. F. of L. in Milford, which voted to do all in its power to defeat the election of Eben S. Draper for Lieutenant Governor.

The meeting will be presided over by Daniel J. McDonald. The committee on arrangements, which consists of Mr. McDonald, John J. Gillispie, Cornelius P. Shea, Michael A. Murphy and George F. Tagen, have completed all arrangements and the meeting promises to be great success.

Among those who have promised to speak are D. D. Driscoll, Thomas Molnahan, Patrick Maloney, Edward J. Berues, William O'Neill, James Timilty, Arthur M. Hubbell and Geo. F. Tagen.

CARL HAU TO BE SET FREE?

CARLSRUHE, Nov. 1.—The death sentence against Prof. Carl Hau, of Washington, is about to be commuted to life imprisonment, and it is generally believed that this will be a mere preliminary to releasing him altogether.

Though no official action has as yet been taken toward the commutation, the Grand Duke of Baden has informally announced that it will be granted on the strength of a recommendation from the minister of justice, who it is understood, has declared the circumstantial evidence, though strongly against the prisoner, did not warrant a conviction.

LET YOUR VOTES BE A PROTEST

—President Hickey

Editor of the BOSTON AMERICAN:

Let us all hope sincerely that the intelligent and honorable citizens of Boston will rise en masse on November 5 and register by their votes a protest, the like of which was never heard before, against the tyrannical and corrupt methods employed in this campaign by a crowd of political sharpers who have grown fat and wealthy in the years they have spent in humbugging the people. The present incumbent of the office of District Attorney of Suffolk County, John B. Moran, has rendered honest and faithful service to the county and should be rewarded for the same by the vote of every citizen who admires honesty and honor.

HARVARD IN BAD SHAPE TO MEET BROWN TEAM

Unless the Harvard football men take a decided brace Brown will win the game in the Stadium to-morrow. The work of the kickers is most discouraging to the coaches. No amount of urging seems to do any good. The players are weak and slow and are giving a fine exhibition of how football should not be played.

In the scrimmage with the scrubs the varsity was able to score once, from a fumble, which Starr recovered from the second team on their fifteen-yard line and then ran over for a touchdown.

The forward passing was lamentably poor, and the fumbling in the backfield was frequent. It did not appear as though the backfield knew the first thing about receiving punts. The line failed to open up holes for the backs when the varsity was on the offense. Wendell, Hand and Dunbar had to make their own holes through the line.

The second team, on the other hand, put up a stubborn defense, and made the varsity fight for every inch of ground that they made. Teddy Roosevelt, jr., played one of his best games at end on the second team. He has fully recovered from his injuries and lost the varsity team from gaining around his end. Coach Daly played quarter for the scrubs.

The teams lined up as follows:

Brown, l.e.	Burr, l.t.	Hunt, l.g.
Grant, c.	Nourse, r.g.	W. Peirce, r.t.
Brock, r.e.	Fish, q.b.	Hodges, l.h.
Peirce, r.h.	Forster, f.b.	Starr.
Wendell, l.e.	Gilbert, l.t.	Hand, l.g.
Dunbar, c.	Ver Wiebe, r.g.	Abel, r.t.

BROWN HOPES TO WIN GAME IN STADIUM

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 1.—The Brown eleven is in great shape for the game with Harvard to-morrow. There's a feeling of confidence here and the Crimson will have to play fast to beat the Providence collegians.

Over a thousand students will go to Boston to-morrow and the eleven won't lack for support.

The entire first string squad was out for practice and the coaches put them through their work with a rush. An added smoothness marked the work of the team and the signal work was much more satisfactory than heretofore.

The problem of a capable fullback is troubling the coaches somewhat. Sway, Seddler, Meader and Harrigan were used yesterday, the first making the best impression. Sargent, a sophomore, who is not yet eligible on account of his studies, was practising with the freshmen and his advent on the varsity team is looked for eagerly. He is in great form, but will not play Saturday.

MORE SHIFTS ARE MADE IN YALE ELEVEN

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 1.—More changes have been made in the Yale eleven. Dunbar was played at centre in place of Congdon, and "Pop" Foster was given a trial at left guard on the varsity, taking the place of Cooney, who has been playing in that position ever since he was shifted from centre a week ago.

From the start Foster made good, making several good tackles in addition to helping out Dunbar at centre.

The varsity were given a twenty-five-minute scrimmage, scoring five times, four of the touchdowns being made on line attacks, in which the regulars swept the second team from mid-field. Philbin, left half-back for the regulars, converted a fake by Bride, left end, into a brilliant touchdown for the fifth score.

Bride made a forward pass from Dimon, but Philbin picked up the ball and shot forty yards for the score. Coy made two scores, one of them a touchdown, the other a goal from placement. Morris, Ely, Dr. Billy Bull, Foster, Ives and Biglin, all back were the new coaches present. Ely spent two hours with the substitute quarter backs, Dines and Bingham.

M'HENRY NOT SIGNED TO TRAIN LOTTA'S RACERS

Lotta Crabtree is in Boston, with an occasional trip to New York; her brother Jack is at the Crabtree farm in Neponset. Nemesis (2.05¼), Lotta (2.08¾), the noted trotters, are quartered at Readville track, and the remainder of the great campaigning stable are at Neponset, while Myron McHenry, the well-known trainer and driver of the Crabtree horses, is in New York quietly negotiating in the running races at the Jamaica track. Thus have the principals in the noted racing stable separated since the close of the Lexington meeting.

Whether the string will be wintered at Savannah, as in the past two seasons, has not been definitely decided upon. It is known that both Miss Crabtree and her brother like down there very much, the weather is so perfect during the cold months of the year, but, in spite of this, it may be that another retreat for the horses will be picked in the Sunny South.

One bad feature about wintering in Savannah is the warm weather there in the early spring, which makes it double dangerous in opening the campaign in the North, as the sudden change in climate is liable to work havoc with the horses. This was the case with the Crabtree string last Spring, when the change from Savannah to Washington and Baltimore caused them all to be sick, some of which did not recover in time to do any racing all the year.

McHenry has made no arrangements to drive the Crabtree horses in 1908, and it is said by some who are close to him that in case he does not the position tendered him that he will not accept unless there is some change in the personnel of the stable's management, this belief being based on some occurrences of the past season.

Heretofore, while McHenry did the race driving, the management of the stable was under Frank Smith and Jack Crabtree. This makes it seem probable that McHenry will want his horses directly under his own charge if he is going to race them.

Were the noted driver unable to come to terms with his employers of the past one or two seasons, then he intends opening a public stable, likely in Memphis, Tenn., where he will race down the Grand Circuit.

However, McHenry will remain in New York till after the November sale, the latter part of the month, and by then may have his future plans mapped out.

SHUTE BEATS WEBSTER.

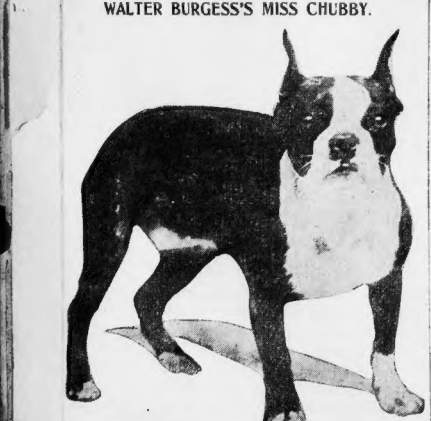
SCHOOL GAMES TO-DAY.

Roslyn vs. Cambridge Latin at Volkmann grounds, Allston (Cambridge League).
Volkmann vs. Newton High at Newton.
Concord High vs. Watertown High at Watertown.

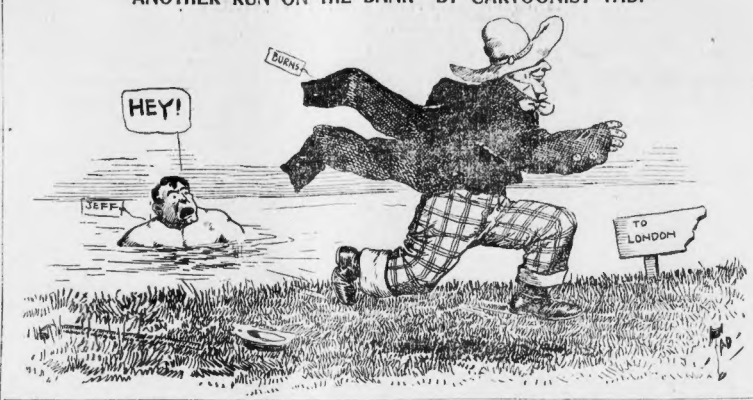
WALTER BURGESS'S MISS CHUBBY.



Walter Burgess, the well-known yachtsman, made the first entry for the Boston Terrier Club's specialty show, which takes place at Mechanics' Building, beginning November 13. Mr. Burgess's entry was a beautiful young bitch named Miss Chubby, a dog of his own breeding, she being by General S—Chitty, which was showed for the first time at Worcester last week. Miss Chubby is a dark brindle of the cobby type, with a most pleasant face. She is a constant companion of Mr. Burgess, going with him to his office every day.

Entries for the Boston Terrier Club's show do not close until next Tuesday, but nominations are already coming in with every mail. Frank A. Tooling, chairman of the bench show committee, is working overtime to round up a fine entry list, and the indications are that records will be broken when the time comes to count up. Eleven additional specials have come in, and the prize money in specials alone will total nearly $250.

ANOTHER RUN ON THE BANK—BY CARTOONIST TAD.



M'DONALD TO WINTER IN SOUTH

Lou McDonald, trainer and driver of Ralph B. Williams's stable of trotters and pacers, is spending a few days in Boston, but leaves soon for Lexington, Ky., where his stable is now located under the charge of his assistant, Ed Avery.

Although he has leased stalls at the Selma, Ala., track for use the coming Winter, yet it is not a sure thing that he will go there after all, as he has a strong mind to ship the horses from Lexington to Macon, Ga., thinking that he will like there better.

Mr. Williams is going to sell a number of his horses at the coming New York auction sale, but at the same time is quietly adding one now and then that gives promise of being a winner in select company.

Leo got hold of a green pacer in Lexington, owned by a farmer in Fayette County, that has some strong hopes of. In a letter, Avery informed him that he worked the youngster a half in 1.01¾, and is sure has all the signs of being capable of gathering the cost this another season in deep water.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN TO-DAY

The annual cross-country run between the teams of Harvard and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology will be run over the Tech course from the Highland Club, West Roxbury, to the Tech field in Brookline village, this afternoon, a distance of about four and a half miles.

The race will be run at about four o'clock. Last year Tech won by the score of 18 to 39, and established the record of the course of 24 minutes 10 seconds. This year it looks as though Harvard would win. Crosby, Hudden and Linter are all about even and should cover the course in close to record time.

MANY PLAYERS UNDER BAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The National Association of Baseball Leagues put on permanent penalty the twenty-two players who jumped to the old outlaw league, the Tri-State, three years ago, and they can't play anywhere outside of that league, except drafted or purchased by a major league club. Among them are Fred Crolius, Otto Dininger, Bressler, who jumped from the Boston Nationals; Jimmy Sebring and Reisling.

JIMMY LEE RAN FIFTH

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 1.—First honors in the Hamilton Herald road race went to Tom Coley of Toronto, who covered the course, a varsity route of twenty miles in 1hr. 48 min. 43 sec.

Jimmy Lee of Somerville, Mass., U. S. A., wearing the T. A. A. A. unicorn on his breast, finished fifth. John H. Neary, the other entry from Massachusetts, whose home is at Natick, fell in the 17 fifteen miles, but was obliged to retire.

BAKER CALLS BOUT OFF

As Harry Baker could not make the required weight, 122 pounds, his bout with Jimmy Welsh at the Chelsea Club next Tuesday has been called off.

The management is now trying to arrange a substitute card.

It is possible that one O'Brien will be selected as one of the principals for the feature contest. His opponent may be Matty Baldwin or Willie Moody.

DELMONT BOXES NOV. 7.

The fifteen round bout between Albert Delmont and Kid Dufresne at Montreal has been changed from Nov. 6 to Nov. 7. Delmont will leave Saturday for the Canadian boxing city.

London Sports Are Arranging a Big

BLOWOUT FOR BURNS

BY TAD.

London sports are going to give our Tommy Burns a tremendous blowout the day he arrives in the land of roast beef and ale. From stories in the London sheets we are led to believe that they are going to "make Rome howl." They call Tommy the fistic hero and already at least fifteen lunkkespers are out with offers to the Canuck for his presence.

Manager Beilson of the National Sporting Club is being pestered to death with the hotel keepers who all ask him to put in a good word that Burns may fly to their place. It is more than likely that Tommy will hold out for a bonus besides the free hair and feed and the chances are that he will get it.

The Coach and Horses, as his at Stonebridge Park, Willesden, is the most probable winner. A great many American fighters trained there before and it looks as though this place will get Mr. Burns and his manager.

The Jolly Jumbo is another great favorite among the visiting Americans and the only boy from this side who trained there and lost his battle was Al Delmont.

Gunner Moir has started training already at the Seven Stars Inn at Shepard's Bush. He is only doing light work at present, but next week will get three husky partners and there will be a fight every day. The Gunner does not believe in light boxing, but goes at his partner the way he batters an opponent in the ring.

Peggy Bettison, who is a great admirer of Moir's, says that if Burns forces the fighting with the Briton and stand toe to toe, there is nothing to it but Moir. No one ever hurt Moir yet, in swapping slams, he says, and Burns, being the lighter man, is bound to slip.

Seems to me that some one said that same thing about Squires and Burns. Oh, yes, that's so.

Jack Johnson had a special matinee for ladies at his training quarters in Colma. No one talking, you can't keep a squirrel on the ground.

The following telegram from "The Old Master" arrived here last night:

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 29, 1907.

Tad:

I have my opening here Tuesday night. Please boost me a little and oblige.

JOE GANS.

Have a drink?

No, thanks, I just buttoned my vest.

Jack O'Brien, who is at present in Reading, Pa., shoots the following shots:

Reading, Pa., Oct. 27, 1907.

Dear Tad—Most Humble: Have been busy as a little stuff and I'm afraid you are asking why I should not be given another chance with the public.

I am still trying to get to the top, and you can assist me greatly, but if you should be in Philadelphia next week you will see me in the world at 158 pounds. Regards to our friends and I am your humble man, Jim Burns. I still stand by my offer to box Sam Langford for $5,000 a side, winner take all. In a few weeks we contemplate tour will be over, and I will appear in Philadelphia against the best men they can find, and, believe me, it will be a fight, and not merely a scientific exhibition.

J. O'BRIEN.

Notes of the Diamond

Larry Lajoie has thirty-nine players lined up for next year, and says his book isn't closed.

A peculiar shift is predicted in the Cardinals for next year. Hoderlay, who has been playing second base is going to catch, because of his great throwing arm.

Connie Mack denies that he was after John Anderson down at Worcester. He was merely visiting a brother. Never did believe that foolish Anderson story, anyhow.

Griffith is not a believer in fate, but he is very much tickled over the fact that every minor league city to which he trained for the last four years has won the pennant.

A breakfast food has been named after Wild Bill Donovan. A proprietary medicine after Hughie Jennings. A patent medicine after Connie Mack. Every baseball player of note has been used as a means to a sinister end, but Bill Dahlen seems to be the only one who has been honored with a breakfast food.

Shortstop Osborn of the Springfield (Central) League team has been sold to Connie Mack's Connie Mack. He carried off the batting honors, batting .350 in 110 games.

Secretary Navin of the Detroit Club announces that he will not train next Spring. The Tigers were the heaviest road losers in the American League last season, dropping more than three around $1,000 and $1,500, while only a few of them brought an added gate.

It is being told in the newspaper stories of baseball that no rule prohibits a player from being sold Ned Hanlon, but that the magnates had a gentleman's agreement not to do it. Rubbish. Plank, for Plank is going, while Keeler is coming.

LIL' ARTIE IS 1 TO 2 CHOICE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Real betting on the Johnson-Flynn fight has opened with the colored fighter a 1 to 2 favorite. At this price a few commissions were placed on Johnson, but the real betting has been a disappointment because of his lack of aggressiveness, his unusual caution might stand him in hand in a forty-five round encounter, the route over which the two are slated to travel.

DANISH CHAMP HERE FOR BIG BIKE RACE

The Danish bike champion, N. M. Anderson, is one of the early foreign arrivals at the Park Square Rink to compete in the six-day race, starting on November 11, yes, that's so.

Jack Johnson had a special matinee for ladies at his training quarters in Colma. No one talking, you can't keep a squirrel on the ground.

The following telegram from "The Old Master" arrived here last night:

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 29, 1907.

Tad:

I have my opening here Tuesday night. Please boost me a little and oblige.

JOE GANS.

Have a drink?

No, thanks, I just buttoned my vest.

Jack O'Brien, who is at present in Reading, Pa., shoots the following shots:

Reading, Pa., Oct. 27, 1907.

Dear Tad—Most Humble: Have been busy as a little stuff and I'm afraid you are asking why I should not be given another chance with the public.

I am still trying to get to the top, and you can assist me greatly, but if you should be in Philadelphia next week you will see me in the world at 158 pounds. Regards to our friends and I am your humble man, Jim Burns. I still stand by my offer to box Sam Langford for $5,000 a side, winner take all. In a few weeks we contemplate tour will be over, and I will appear in Philadelphia against the best men they can find, and, believe me, it will be a fight, and not merely a scientific exhibition.

J. O'BRIEN.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—Abe Attell, champion featherweight of the world," He wrote it this way yesterday, and he writes it the same old way to-day, and see.

"This boy Weeks," said Abe, "is a good strong fellow, but he lacks experience Without throwing bouquets at myself, I could have put him out in the first round, but I thought that I would play safe and be sure of my man."

Attell has great ambition, and that is to meet Frankie Neil again and make him take the beating of his life. If he can't get Neil he wants to secure a match with Jimmy Britt, the little English fighter.

FOOD FAIR IS THE CHILDREN'S MECCA TO-DAY

Little Ones Invade the Vast Halls on the Day Set Aside in Their Honor.

Kids, just kids, hold full sway at the Food Fair to-day.

For the closing week of the Fair the management reserved one day for the little ones. Nothing were set aside the surrounding towns that to-day would be children's day. A number of places closed their public schools for one day in order that the children might take full advantage of the occasion. Every child, accompanied by an adult, is admitted free.

In consequence, from the opening of the doors, the place began to be flooded with boys and girls, of all sizes and descriptions, from city and country, from humble cottages and from palatial homes, all filled with enthusiasm for the wonders of the Food Fair.

The special attractions for children are, of course, confined to the limit to-day. At the free circus the audiences pack the tabernacle to the doors. The children's day is top gallery is jammed. The toy booths are crowded by thousands.

The regular exhibits also delight the children, while the usual juvenile prevarication in asking a thousand and one questions, some of which can be answered by some of which would puzzle the Seven Wise Men from the East and a "Seeing Boston" guide into the English.

The laughter and joyful exclamations of the little ones reaching highest pitch as they hails to-day as the children hurry to and fro to see this and that. The attendants, and especially the pretty demonstrators, are busy indeed, for the children are always showing them all there is to see and, every now and then, attending to some child from a bonfire which he had kindled on the kitchen floor during his mother's absence.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

ROXBURY STORAGE SALESROOMS WHERE PIANOS ARE SACRIFICED

Fighting the Piano Trust

The name "Piano Trust" sounds big, looks powerful and frightens a good many people, but we are fighting it and will drive it out of existence as a "Piano Trust" entirely. We have been retiring their pianos for months, exchanging and selling them, slaughtering their prices, and have been whipping the Trust in Boston and other cities in every 30 days since we started in business. We are doing it, but we have got to do it a little faster, so we have a couple of high-grade pianos, new or second-hand, at prices that make the big Piano Trust shiver.

A Piano Sale here is always a sacrifice, always a bargain, sale after a cash-down sale. The very nature of the business, as an outside house, is one of sacrifice. The business is not conducted like that of a regular Piano Store here, where they are expected to make a profit on each piano—where they get them DIRECT and out of the sale of pianos. We don't let any piano leaf around on the floor of the Roxbury Storage Salesrooms—it comes in DUE

WHY DEMOCRATS WILL NOT VOTE FOR WHITNEY

Since Olney declared himself in favor of Whitney's election, similar declarations have come from more remote parts of the country in quick succession, from Grover Cleveland and Alton B. Parker.

If the people of Massachusetts wanted a complete case against Whitney above and beyond his own notorious personal record, they could not find a more complete case than in the endorsement and the public records of Cleveland, Olney and Parker.

They are all of the same type; part of the same stock; having the same principles, or, more accurately, the same want of all principles; serving the same masters in Wall Street; performing the same services to those masters, chief among which services have been the syndicating of the Democratic party of the nation and prostituting it to the will of the great special interests; making it voiceless in protest against the evils which have sprung up during the forty years of dominance of the Republican party; making it nerveless to strike a single blow at any real or substantial wrong from which the country suffered; making it fight a sham battle on non-essential issues, so that when the smoke should clear away the real enemies of the country might remain unharmed from any attack the Democratic party might make upon them.

Cleveland and Parker both see in Whitney's candidacy the attempt to perform the same service to exactly the same interests which they themselves performed as candidates on the Democratic ticket. Olney, as one of the conspirators with Whitney in the attempt by Morgan, Rockefeller and Harriman to establish a railroad monopoly in New England, knows, of course, why Whitney, a man advanced in years, has undertaken the labors of political warfare at this time.

He knows that Whitney is put into the fight to syndicate the Democratic party in order to render it powerless to oppose this outrageous attack upon the interests of New England.

Last year, when John B. Moran was the Democratic candidate, and when the party was free to express those principles which are nearest to the hearts of the Democratic masses, and the party leaders and speakers and writers were free to direct their attack upon real evils, and to criticise Governor Guild and the Republican party for real shortcomings, and to demand of the Republican candidates what they proposed to do on certain real questions which were presented for solution—THEN the Democratic party was a thing to be feared, THEN Governor Guild was driven against his wish, against the pressure of the powerful interests, to the horror of his party leaders, to say that he would sign the overtime bill if it should be presented to him during his term of office.

So powerful was the Democratic and Independence League attack on this question when the Democratic party by accident found itself free to strike without let or hindrance from corporation hirelings like Whitney, Olney, Parker and Cleveland, and their little local satellites who have been somewhat conspicuous in the Whitney camp, that Governor Guild was obliged from the public platform to say that he would sign this very bill and give it legal life, for the killing of which he had promoted the President of the Senate to the Superior bench.

Mr. Olney knows that it is to prevent Governor Guild from being driven to take a similar position on the railroad merger that Whitney has made these tremendous efforts to capture, to bind and to gag the Democratic party.

Cleveland, who, as Governor of New York, interposed his veto against the passage of popular measures so overwhelmingly right that even a New York Legislature could not refuse to pass them; Cleveland, who participated in the midnight bond swindle in which Wall Street, and Morgan in particular, made millions of dollars; who permitted the Sherman anti-trust law to lie a dead letter on the statute books while the great monopolistic corporations were running riot, and who revived that law only to use it as an instrument for the prosecution of the leaders of labor unions, under the pretence of its authority and by the connivance of certain servile judges, throwing workingmen into jail without trial by jury; who sent the United States troops to Chicago against the protest of the Governor of Illinois and the Mayor of Chicago; whose administration, in short, was a period of the wildest orgies by the great, get-rich-quick monopolists of the country.

Parker, whose first experience in national politics was as a syndicated candidate of Ryan and Belmont, their puppet and figurehead in their effort to make the Democratic party safe and sane because Roosevelt was coming to be considered unsafe and yet was likely to receive the Republican nomination.

In the history of great parties in this country there has never been such an example of crushing disaster and humiliating defeat as the punishment administered to Alton B. Parker by the disgusted and indignant Democrats of the land.

Defeated by more than two million votes, Parker and his masters were given a lesson they ought not soon to forget.

It was not President Roosevelt's popularity that overwhelmed Parker by over two millions plurality. His vote was no greater than McKinley's, plus the normal increase in the voting population of the country. It was the huge numbers of Democrats who refused either to vote for the Democratic or the Republican candidate which made Parker's vote so small and Roosevelt's plurality so large.

These disgusted Democrats had no third party to which they could turn, so they declined to vote at all. The situation is better to-day in Massachusetts.

History is repeating itself in Massachusetts with respect to the Democratic party. A man with a notorious public record, who promoted his private schemes for financial aggrandizement by all sorts of legislative corruption; by methods which were condemned by two Governors of the Commonwealth, one a Democrat and one a Republican, at the time these schemes were being promoted; methods which have been condemned by the Supreme Court of the State and the nation—a man who has been charged by a citizen of financial responsibility of accountability for much graver misconduct, for the disappearance of Towle and for his alleged suicide, without once daring to invoke against his accuser the ample protection the laws of this country give a citizen against slanderous and libelous attacks.

Such a man has syndicated, captured, bound and gagged the Democratic party. Thousands upon thousands of Democrats of the Commonwealth are in open revolt against this disgusting prostitution of the party.

But they are not obliged this year to choose between such a man on the Democratic ticket and the Republican party, as they were obliged to choose three years ago between Parker and the Republicans at the National election.

They have an opportunity this year to vote for the Independence League ticket, for candidates who were on the Democratic ticket last year when that ticket was unhampered by the control of monopolists. Hisgen, though sufficiently independent to vote for Roosevelt against Parker three years ago, was nominated last year by the Democratic party.

Brown was the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor last year and received the largest vote ever before given a Democratic candidate for that office.

The principles of the Independence League are precisely the same as the principles adopted by the radical Democracy last year. The transition, therefore, from the now soulless Democratic organization is not great. The names of its candidates have a familiar sound. Their faces are not new to the Democrats who attended the Democratic rallies last year, and their voices are not strange to Democratic audiences.

The real opposition to the Republican party now is the Independence League, and not the Democratic party.

Whitney and his minions accomplished their evil purpose when they rendered the Democratic party powerless to hurt the Republicans and Governor Guild, who proposes to stand pat on the present merger situation.

If any Democrat doubts this statement let him consider the significance of the letter from ex-Congressman Conry, one of Whitney's minions, appealing for Lodge's support for Dennison, the Democratic candidate for District Attorney.

This letter bases its appeal to Senator Lodge on the assumption that Lodge, as the Republican leader of Massachusetts, would rather see the Democratic party, UNDER ITS PRESENT CONTROL, gain success than to promote in the slightest degree the cause of the Independence League.

Without question, Lodge would prefer the Democratic party and Whitney to the Independence League, just as the Morgan and Rockefeller and Harriman Republicans would have preferred Parker three years ago to an honest, third-party candidate.

In Massachusetts Whitney will suffer a fate similar to Parker's in the nation at the hands of the Democrats who refuse to be bought and sold whenever the corporations are willing to pay the price.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO HAVE THIS MAN APPOINT YOUR JUDGES?

If Henry M. Whitney is elected Governor he will have the power to appoint Judges and commissioners, including RAILROAD commissioners.

Henry M. Whitney's name has been associated with the worst lobby scandals of the last twenty years in Massachusetts.

He has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in buying charters for TRUSTS from the State Legislature.

His methods in obtaining the West End franchise led to an investigation, the official report of which is a volume of over 700 printed pages, and Whitney's name is on almost every page.

He bought, by the worst methods known to trust promotion, a charter for the Bay State Gas Company that was vetoed by Governor Wolcott.

This veto caused the collapse of Whitney's scheme and was followed by the flight of George H. Towle, the chief of Whitney's gang of lobbyists. Shortly thereafter a body supposed to be that of Towle, who had jumped overboard from the steamship, came ashore at Jamaica.

Does anyone doubt, in view of this record, that Henry M. Whitney's present candidacy is merely a scheme to establish a RAILROAD TRUST in New England?

Think of voting for such a man for Governor of Massachusetts and giving him the POWER TO APPOINT JUDGES!
